HOOVER INTRODUCES RELIEF PLAN

Will Demand Removal Of Mayor Walker From Office

SEABURY TO SUBMIT DATA TO GOVERNOR

Believed Some Citizen or Organization Will Ask Official Be Removed FILE FINDINGS SOON
Indications Are Action to Be Urged Before Democratic National Meet

NEW YORK, June 2.—(UP)—Removal of Mayor James J. Walker from office will be sought soon. The Hofstadter committee is prepared to submit its data on the mayor and his income, as gathered by the committee's investigation.

The committee and its counsel, Judge Samuel Seabury, may not make the removal demand, but will submit its evidence, based chiefly on the claim of an alleged violation of a law against public officials holding securities of concerns interested in city contracts. This evidence also will contain data for possible action on the claim that Walker failed satisfactorily to account for income he received aside from salary.

Once the data is submitted and this probably will be before the Democratic national convention in which Roosevelt will stand as a presidential nominee candidate—some citizen or civic organization will be in a position to submit a removal demand. It appears likely now that this will be the procedure, rather than to have a direct demand from the committee.

In connection with the city contract phase, the governor is likely to be given a precedent which arose in the regime of former Gov. Whitman. As to the question of satisfactorily accounting for income, Roosevelt himself has said that the proper standard for public officers is that they be able to provide such accounting.

Whitman removed a public service commission for holding securities of a public utility. While this man turned over the bond to his wife, Whitman held that, despite technical non-ownership by the official, the spirit of the law had been infringed. Walker

VALIDITY OF WATER BOND ISSUE UPHELD

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—(UP)—The state supreme court today approved the validity of the Metropolitan Water district bond issue of $220,000,000, voted for the purpose of building an aqueduct to carry water from Boulder dam to Los Angeles.

J. E. Burney, a taxpayer, had brought suit to test the validity of the bond issue. A Los Angeles superior court ruled that the issue was valid, and the high court affirmed the superior court decision.

"The bond issue satisfies the statute which provides that the amount voted for bonds cannot exceed 15 per cent of the taxable property in the district," the supreme court ruling declared.

Two Boys And Cow Save Fertile Valley

BLTYHE, Calif., June 2.—(UP)—Two boys and a placid dairy cow were credited today with having saved the Palo Verde valley from inundation by Colorado river flood waters.

As more than 3000 persons breathed freely once more after 24 hours of terror, they paid honor to William Harold Hayes, 11; Freddie Moore, 9, and the Moore family cow. Pursuing the cow Tuesday evening at milking time, the boys found her drinking from a ditch where no water should be. River wise, they investigated, found water roaring through a break in the levee and ran to spread the alarm.

G. O. P. LEADERS PREPARING WAY FOR WET PLANK

Hoover Remains Silent Although Backers Boost Liberal Platform

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—Republican leaders appear to be preparing the way for a compromise declaration on prohibition at the Republican national convention which opens less than two weeks from today.

President Hoover is issuing no orders, so far as has been disclosed. At least none has penetrated through the thick fog of talk which encircles the prohibition issue here. He is believed to be sympathetic to a resubmission proposal, coupled with a reassuring expression for the dry voters. Visions appear at the White House like a line of ants as convention time approaches. They go inside and speak their pieces. The inexperienced wait hopefully for President Hoover to express his views in reply. He only smiles and thanks them for coming in. The experienced callers preface their remarks by saying in effect, "Now Mr. President I don't want you to say a word, but I think you ought to know—" and so on.

Mr. Hoover's chief political manager, Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, has announced that the Republican convention will agree to a prohibition plank that will be "satisfactory to all." The usual result of such effort is something unsatisfactory to both sides but Brown is optimistic.

President Hoover had the support of practically all organized

APPENDIX OF BABE REMOVED AT BIRTH

NEW YORK, June 2.—(UP)—The removal of an infant's appendix immediately after its birth, believed to be the first successful operation of its kind on record, was revealed today at a Brooklyn hospital.

The operation was performed at Prospect Heights and Brooklyn Maternity hospital on a boy born on May 23 to Mrs. Florence Bryan, Brooklyn. At the child's birth physicians noticed a serious hernia involving the appendix and decided upon immediate surgery.

AMELIA EARHART TO PAY FRANCE VISIT

LONDON, June 2.—(UP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam said goodbye to London friends today before motoring to Southampton to board the yacht Eynard for Cherbourg.

C. R. Fahey, president of the Royal Aeronautical society, invited numerous British fliers to accompany Miss Earhart across the English channel and attend a dinner party in her honor aboard his yacht. The guests included Miss Amy Johnson and two members of the British Schneider cup team, Wing Commander A. H. Orlebar and Flight Lieutenant S. N. Webster.

Miss Earhart will meet her husband at Cherbourg.

AIRMAIL PILOT SETS DOWN FLAMING PLANE AT NIGHT

CONFERENCE ON REVENUE BILL IN AGREEMENT

Expect Work Will Be Completed Tonight; Economy Bill Fight on

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—Conference on the House and Senate in secret session made rapid progress today on the $1,116,000,000 tax bill while the economy fight flared on the Senate floor.

Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, said the conferees might be able to complete their work by tonight and other conferees believed another day would be ample in which to put the unprecedented peace-time tax bill into shape for final submission to the two houses.

As the conferees met again at 1:45 p. m., Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee joined Watson in predicting that the conference would be completed tonight. Some of the conferees have suggested a night session if necessary to complete the job.

The revenue from the tax bill must be augmented by $300,000,000 in government savings if the budget is to be balanced. The economic dispute in the Senate centered around proposed federal pay cuts.

The House rebelled against reductions of Federal salaries from highest to lowest paid employees. The economy bill designed to save $200,000,000, was smashed in the House battle and came to the Senate carrying only $40,000,000.

The Senate appropriations committee has reported a bill to reduce salaries 10 per cent, cut the $1,000,000,000 veterans' appropriation by $48,000,000 and to effect other savings aggregating $235,605,000. A paragraph in the economy bill contains undisguised invitations to the President and Federal judges, whose salaries cannot be cut because of constitutional limitations, to reduce their pay voluntarily. The treasury is authorized to receive contributions from all federal officials whose pay is

DISMISS CHARGES AGAINST ALLISON

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—(UP)—Fourteen counts of an indictment charging Charles F. Allison, former state co-receiver of American Mortgage company properties, with embezzlement, were dismissed today by Superior Judge Elliot Craig.

Allison now is freed of charges in the state court, although, with A. J. Showalter, his former co-receiver, he faces federal charges of misuse of the mails.

He was originally indicted with Showalter on the ground that money disbursed by the two receivers had been squandered. Embezzlement charges against Showalter previously had been dismissed.

TO QUASH CHARGES AGAINST A. B. FALL

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—Attlee Pomerene, prosecutor of the Teapot Dome oil scandal cases, told President Hoover today he would attempt to quash conspiracy charges against Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior.

He said acquisition of Harry F. Sinclair, oil man, on conspiracy charges in connection with the Teapot Dome cases made it impossible to prosecute Fall because he could not show conspiracy on the part of a single individual. Pomerene told Mr. Hoover he was going to the District of Columbia supreme court and seek to have charges against Fall nolle prossed.

Bright Pajamas As Burial Robe Is Urged

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 2.—(UP)—Bright hued pajamas were urged as the correct garb to be buried in by funeral directors, meeting here today.

Pajamas for both men and women in such shades as pink, pea green, lavender and robin's egg blue were on display at the annual convention of the Illinois Funeral Directors and Embalmers association.

For women of more conservative tastes, street dresses are recommended as burial robes. Many of these garments have short jackets of lace.

ECONOMY MEET IS FAVORED BY UNITED STATES

This Country Ready To Participate With Other Nations In Parley

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—The United States, it was said in a high administration quarter today would be willing to take part in the second phase of the Lausanne conference, dealing with general economic questions, provided the conference were transferred to London.

This plan was outlined yesterday by Sir John Simon, British foreign minister. The administration emphasized, however, that its participation would in no way commit the United States to discuss war debts or reparations, the subjects to be considered by the first part of the Lausanne conference.

America's keen interest in the conference, it was said, will assure this country's representation of a delegation of first class economists and statesmen. Whether some of them will be sent from the United States or all recruited from among American diplomats and officials now in Europe has not been decided.

State department officials today were unable to predict the personnel of the conference.

One delegate, in the view of observers here, may be Norman Davis, advisor on monetary and legal questions for many years. Davis is now a delegate to the general disarmament conference at Geneva.

UNDERWORLD ON "SPOT"

NEW YORK, June 2.—(UP)—Underworld leaders who were delegated by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to seek contact with the kidnapers of his son, were called today before the Bronx county grand jury which resumed its investigation of the Lindbergh case.

3000 VETERANS MOVING TODAY ON WASHINGTON

Seven More Armies Consisting of 3200 More Are Being Organized

(By UNITED PRESS)
MORE THAN 3000 war veterans in at least eight "bonus armies" moved toward Washington, D. C., by box car, bus and in marching platoons today to press demands for a cash bonus.

Seven more armies were recruiting and expected to leave for the national capital with 3200 more marchers before the week ends. The veterans advancing today reported less difficulty getting transportation than did the Oregon army which started the crusade and was marooned in southern Illinois by a railroad's refusal to let them board freight cars. Progress was marked, however, by increasing difficulties in getting food.

Cities which had donated provisions to the first armies, shut off the free food. The veterans were forced to turn cash handlers. Armies moving today, their numbers and approximate locations were:

From San Francisco—200 men—at Council Bluffs, Ia.
From Salt Lake City—27 men—left Council Bluffs.
From Detroit—800 men—at Toledo.

From Chicago—1200 men—nearing Toledo.
From Chicago—400 men—left Pittsburgh in box cars.
From Camden, N. J.—400 men—nearing Washington.

From Fort Worth, Tex.—50 men—"Somewhere in Texas."
From New Orleans, La.—200 men—left Opelika, Ala., in trucks.

A group of 15 men was preparing to leave Albany, N. Y., today, and 500 men at Oklahoma City and 350 at Denver planned to start tonight.

From San Antonio, Tex., 525 members hoped to depart tomorrow, and an army of 1000 was being recruited at Kansas City, Mo., also to go tomorrow.

At Cleveland 400 veterans organized to start for Washington Saturday, and 300 more at Wichita, Kans., announced they would leave Sunday.

EGAN IS REMOVED FROM CIVIC POST

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—(UP)—Frank J. Egan, San Francisco public defender, today was removed from his $8000-a-year position because he refused to aid police in their investigation of the death of Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, his old-time friend and client.

Refuses To Leave Ship With Chute

Manages to Save Part of Mail After Landing in Field Near Fresno

FRESNO, June 2.—(UP)—A Pacific Air Transport mail plane piloted by E. L. Remlin, San Diego, caught fire at 2000 feet altitude here at 1:57 a. m. today and was totally destroyed. Part of the mail was saved.

Although Remlin, veteran of 15 years' flying experience, was wearing a parachute in the four-passenger, single-motored Boeing plane, he chose to stay with the motor, he was successful in bringing the craft to earth in a cow pasture three miles south of Chandler Field, Fresno's municipal airport.

The plane carried no passengers. When the plane caught fire, Remlin through his radio immediately told airport authorities of the trouble, released parachute flares and came to earth.

The only damage done the plane in landing was the breaking of one wheel, blamed on rough ground. Remlin's first act after landing was to try to save the mail. He was able to save only part of it before the flames drove him away.

The destroyed craft was Boeing 40-B-4, operating on the San Diego-Seattle air mail run. It left San Diego at 10:15 o'clock last night, left Los Angeles at 11:45 and landed at Bakersfield at 12:45 a. m.

Remlin told the United Press that the cause of the fire was still undetermined several hours after the accident. Remlin is married, and makes his home in San Diego with his wife and child.

The mail plane pilot has about 8000 flying hours to his credit, having entered the air service in 1917.

ECONOMY MOVE MAY SLASH COMMITTEES

SACRAMENTO, June 2.—(UP)—The long arm of economy may reach to standing committees of the state legislature, reducing them in number by 75 per cent at the next session, if recommendations sent to the members today are adopted.

C. W. Booth, secretary of the legislative interim committee, which has been studying the operation of legislative committees, said that his group had adopted a resolution by which they would be cut from 33 to 13 in the assembly.

By the use of 13 committees, each member of the assembly would have a place on two committees, but the chairmanships, as usual, would remain the same in the battle for prestige.

The proposed program calls for meetings of the legislature in the morning, committee meetings in the afternoon, and sub-committee work, public hearings, or assembly sessions at night.

ASK COUNTY CLERK OF L. A. TO RESIGN

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—(UP)—The county board of supervisors after a secret conference today gave County Clerk L. E. Lampton until 2 p. m. to submit his resignation.

The board stated that unless Lampton had resigned voluntarily by that time charges of incompetency and inefficiency would be filed against him.

The action resulted from the disappearance of $75,000 Charles Crawford-Morris Lavine extortion money from a county vault.

Earlier today Liberty A. Hill, Lampton's chief deputy, pleaded not guilty to grand theft charges in connection with the missing currency.

Business Over State Is Getting Better

SACRAMENTO, June 2.—(UP)—A "definite upturn in California business conditions is already apparent," Colonel Carlos W. Huntington, state registrar of contractors, declared here today.

In a statement to contractors, urging increased public confidence and promotion of higher ethics and standards of industry to speed up economic recovery, he said: "I am convinced that business is now on the upgrade, and that permanent recovery is but a matter of a short period of time. In almost every city in California there is a marked improvement in the building, which was the industry hardest hit by recent economic conditions."

AERIAL SEARCH IN FAR NORTH STARTED TODAY

Three Boston Aviators Off for Newfoundland to Locate Missing Men

BOSTON, June 2.—(UP)—A big silver monoplane left here today, carrying three young Boston aviators on a two-stop 1300-mile flight to far northern Newfoundland to make an aerial search for a Grenfell mission worker and an airmail pilot, missing since Memorial day.

Aboard the pontoon-equipped NC-4616, loaned for the expedition by Dr. Alexander Forbes of Milton, were: Charles Joseph "Charley" Hubbard Jr., 29-year-old architect and former Harvard football captain, as navigator; Harold G. Crowley, 30, as pilot; and Edward T. O'Toole, 30, as mechanic.

After refueling stops at Charlottetown, P. E. I., and St. Georges, Newfoundland, they expect to reach the Grenfell mission at St. Anthony tomorrow. If all goes well, they will begin an aerial hunt over the St. Anthony region for Dr. K. Karl Kuehnert of Crystal Lake, Ill., dental surgeon attached to the Grenfell mission.

Dr. Kuehnert has been attached to the Grenfell mission as dentist since last July. During his service there he had become acquainted with Sullivan, who for several winters had flown the airmail from St. John's to St. Anthony. On Monday the dentist suggested to Sullivan that they go for a short flight. They boarded Sullivan's plane, vanished in a fog bank, and did not return.

Sullivan, who is about 23 years old, is a son of the late Michael S. Sullivan, former Newfoundland cabinet member and once acting colonial secretary.

WOMEN VOTERS OF STATE END PARLEY

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—(UP)—Determined opposition to any retrenchment in child welfare activity and favor of some form of unemployment insurance, were carried out by many communities of the state as delegates to the 11th annual conference, California League of Women voters returned to their homes today.

The final session of the conference concluded yesterday with a discussion of unemployment insurance by A. W. Hoch, president of the California State Federation of Labor.

Calling insurance a mere palliative, rather than a cure for conditions, he urged state insurance as ultimate remedy. He declared the employer should have an important part in its dispensing.

FRISCO ATTORNEY IS HELD TO TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—(UP)—Robert E. Hatch, San Francisco attorney and son-in-law of Supreme Court Justice John W. Preston, and Richard Young will appear June 13 to plead to indictments charging them with forgery and grand theft of $500,000 from two oil companies they formerly served in official capacities.

The pair surrendered and posted bail of $25,000 each after indictments were brought by the county grand jury in spite of an appeal by Justice Preston as mediator for his daughter's husband.

They face 32 counts of grand theft and one of forgery, but contended that the money involved was used to pay bills of the California Kettleman Oil Land companies. They contended the charges were an outgrowth of eight years of litigation affecting the concerns.

PROPOSAL IS GIVEN HOUSE EARLY TODAY

Personal Plan Submitted as Hurley Opposes Garner's Measure in Hearing

MILLS OPPOSES MOVE

Hawley Measure Would Permit 300 Millions to States for Distress

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—President Hoover's personal plan for unemployment relief was offered in the House today shortly after two members of his official cabinet had appeared before congressional committees in opposition to the two Democratic programs.

Representative Hawley, Republican, Oregon, introduced two bills embodying the president's plan for a $1,000,000,000 increase in the capitalization of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Previously Secretary of War Hurley had testified against the Garner plan before the House ways and means committee and Secretary of the Treasury Mills opposed the Wagner program before the Senate banking and currency committee.

The Hawley measures permit total loans of $200,000,000 to states for relief of distress. In addition, the corporation would be authorized to extend loans to states, municipalities and corporations to begin construction work guaranteed to furnish employment.

A sum of $50,000,000 would be allocated for loans to the Federal Farm Board to enable it to make additional loans to cooperative associations and stabilization corporations.

Financial institutions would also be authorized to borrow to enable them to "finance and the carrying and orderly marketing of staple commodities produced in the United States."

As additional farm relief, the Secretary of Agriculture would be

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (To the Editor of The Register:.) When a Los Angeles guy comes up here to Frisco it's just a country boy going to town, you have to take your spurs off here. You can't explain Frisco, it's just the Greta Garbo of the West.

Just come up through Stanford University at Palo Alto and my son, a student there, couldn't tell me where Herbert Hoover's home was. He is either just dumb, or a Democrat; could be both.

See the Senate took your money and balanced their budget. The whole thing is supposed to be based on what we all earn this year. Somebody is going to get fooled.

Critics of the economy bill complain that more than $100,000,000 of the salary savings of $122,000,000 would come from low-paid employees and amendments propose to exempt various classes up to $2500 a year.

The tax bill conferees have pledged themselves to secrecy regarding their work until they are ready to report.

Noted Aviator And Author to Speak At H. S. Tomorrow

Lieutenant John V. Duell, roaming aviator who likes to go places and see strange sights, will deliver an address before the Honor society of the Santa Ana High school at 11:15 Friday morning, June 3. It was announced by members of the society today.

Lieutenant Duell is no stranger to Santa Ana audiences. He has already appeared before several groups with highly interesting narratives of his adventures in the air and into strange places. The subject of his Honor society address has been announced as "French Guiana, Devil's Island and the French Penal Colony." He has been an extensive air traveler in South America.

A small admission will be charged and the public is invited to attend. Special guests will be graduates of both the junior and senior high schools.

Poultry Rancher Sued On Mortgage

Proof that the poultry business has been hit by the depression along with every other line was given today with the filing of a suit by the Buckeye Incubator company against Charles W. Peters, Anaheim rancher. The suit was filed seeking foreclosure of a chattel mortgage on six incubators sold to Peters in 1931.

In purchasing the incubators, according to the complaint, Peters signed six promissory notes with the company for a total of $5626.50. Each incubator had a capacity of 12,000 eggs. The complaint is seeking judgment for $5626.50 and foreclosure of the mortgage on the incubators.

HOOVER RELIEF PLAN IS GIVEN SOLONS TODAY

empowered to borrow a maximum of $50,000,000 from the corporation funds to finance the exportation of agricultural commodities.

Loan Terms

Loans extended by the corporation for construction work would be made under provisions for repayment within five years. The President's insistence upon all such projects being "self liquidating" is guaranteed in the loan terms carried in the bill.

The administration marshalled its forces against what President Hoover calls "pork barrel legislation," and sent Secretary of War Hurley before the House ways and means committee to testify against the Garner unemployment relief program.

Ten minutes later Secretary of the Treasury Mills carried the administration's fight into the other wing of the capital when he appeared before the Senate banking and currency committee in opposition to a Democratic relief plan specifying the issuance of $500,000,000 (M) in bonds for federal construction projects. The bill carries a total appropriation of $2,300,000,000 (B).

A dramatic session was forecast at the house hearing when Speaker Garner arrived ready to defend his $2,300,000,000 bill, which includes $1,200,000,000 for a public works program.

It is around the public works phase of the bill that the sharp controversy between Garner and Mr. Hoover has developed. The tanned, athletic secretary of war began a vigorous exposition of the administration's opposition to the bill.

He submitted charts prepared by army engineers to show the extent to which each state is now benefiting under war department river and harbor and flood control projects.

Negligible Amount

Hurley sought to show that a negligible amount of employment would result from this phase of the Garner measure.

Alabama, for example, he said, under army projects has found employment for 308 men, and under the Garner plan the maximum to be employed would be 778 men. The per capita expenditure would rise from 19 cents per capita to $1.01.

The Garner bill provides for expenditure of more than $300,000,000 in rivers and harbors and flood control projects.

Hurley estimated that this was only $4,469,900 more than would be spent under the war department program. He said this increase would give employment to only an additional 34,178 persons.

The program "is as sound and wise economically as the fiscal condition of the nation will permit," Hurley said.

The senate Democratic program includes: Direct loans to states for unemployment relief totalling $300,000,000; issuance of reconstruction finance corporation debentures aggregating $1,400,000,000 for financing self-liquidating public works; issuance of $40,000,000 of the same debentures for financing sales of agricultural products in foreign markets; a $500,000,000 bond issue for construction of hitherto authorized public works.

Warns Committee

Mills warned the committee the public works provision would "automatically unbalance the budget by $300,000,000."

He referred to the proposed $500,000,000 construction appropriation as the creation of "a special or extraordinary budget" and added the committee apparently was contemplating "undoing all the work of the special economy committee."

Mills attempted to point out to the senate committee that an unbalanced budget would "cause a further shock to public confidence and tend to retard business recovery and very possibly add to the number of those already unemployed."

He said he approved the principle of relief loans to states with exhausted resources, but emphasized that only "absolute need" should be made the basis of federal aid.

dry groups four years ago and he has told some of their leaders that he will not desert them this time.

On the other hand, Republicans from large eastern states like New York and New Jersey are bearing down hard for some shift in position which will enable them to proclaim him as a wet.

Betting is good that the Republican platform carpenters will do their best to construct a compromise formula that will recognize both of these diverse elements—something to the general effect that we need greater respect for all laws but that the people ought always to have the right to register their views.

That many dries might be persuaded to accept such a formula was indicated by the changed attitude of one of the most prominent church laymen in the country, Fred B. Smith of New York, long internationally known in Y. M. C. A. work, now chairman of the citizen's committee of 1000 for law enforcement.

He said after talking with President Hoover that the time had come for a showdown.

"My views have changed," he said. "It is time for the people to express themselves—that is the American way of doing things."

JAYCEE YEAR BOOK ISSUED TOMORROW

Presenting a fitting climax to a year of activities at the Santa Ana Junior college, Del Ano, the year book, will be distributed tomorrow morning on the campus, according to an announcement today by Miss Dulcie Green, editor-in-chief of the publication. The presentation of Del Ano will be the last of a series of associated student activities of the year and membership tickets will be called in at that time, it is said.

A formal presentation of the book will be made to staff members tonight at a banquet to be held in the Sycamore, in Tustin. Invitations have been issued to all the students who helped on the publication, to L. L. Beeman, faculty advisor of Del Ano, to Miss Anna Gillies, head of the art department, to Dean McKee Fisk, and to Thomas E. Williams, instructor of printing in the junior college. The banquet is under the direction of Miss Celestia Straub, assistant editor.

DR. WARNER BACK FROM CONFERENCE

Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, arrived home last night from Atlantic City where he has been attending the sessions of the general conference of the Methodist church, which meets every four years, and to which he was elected as a delegate from California.

Dr. Warner and his wife made the trip back from Danville, Illinois, by auto with O. F. Hassel, of Lafayette, Indiana, a brother of Mrs. Warner, who plans to spend the summer in California. The party left Danville at noon last Friday and report roads in fair shape and good weather with the exception of a 15 minute shower at one place on the way.

A report of the proceedings of the conference will be made by Dr. Warner at the service next Sunday morning and Sunday evening he will preach on an unusual incident during the homeward trip.

BUILDING PERMITS SHOW $6000 GAIN

Building permits for last month totaled $37,155.50, beating the valuation of permits issued in the same month last year by nearly $6000. In May, 1931, the permits totaled $31,459. April permits this year amounted to $38,469. So far this year a total of $231,588 in building permits has been issued.

although he never got overseas.

When asked what his sensations were when the plane caught fire, Remlin said:

"I don't know that I had any particular sensation, except that I knew I'd better land pretty darned quick, so I did."

Asked why he didn't take to his parachute, he said:

"Oh, I don't know. It didn't seem the right thing to do."

He said he is 34 years of age, that he entered the army air service in 1917 and in 1926 became one of the first pilots under air mail contract service, flying the Los Angeles-Salt Lake City run. He has been an air mail pilot since.

He said he never yet had made an emergency jump from a plane, although he had parachuted for the experience.

Listen for the voice of the one you love. It tells you that it is your task to make life sweet, easy and happy and more worthwhile for all who cross your path. It summons you to enter into what is dear to others and to help them to find in it what is good and true and beautiful. It bids you spend yourself for others.

CASE BASED ON BOOZE CHARGE GOES TO JURY

Orange county's first criminal slander case, said to be the second in the state of California, went to a jury in department one shortly before noon today. J. E. Gore, Balboa boatman, was accused of criminally slandering R. R. Hodgkinson, chief of police at Newport Beach.

Gore is alleged to have said, at a meeting held in the beach city, that "your chief is a bootlegger and in league with the bootleggers and I can prove it." The prosecution charges that Gore could not and did not prove that his statement was anything other than an attempt to prejudice members of the city council against an appointive officer.

Yesterday afternoon minutes of the meeting at which Gore is alleged to have hurled his sensational charges were read by J. F. Vogel, Balboa entertainer who was secretary of the meeting. In addition to the charges made by Gore, the minutes revealed that the "short ugly word" was hurled frequently during the meeting.

Gore took the stand in his own defense yesterday and testified that he had attended the meeting in Balboa on invitation of a discharged employe of the city of Newport Beach and repeated these charges, which he claimed he had already made before the city council of the beach city.

Attempting to prove that Hodgkinson was involved in the liquor traffic he testified that the police official had come aboard a boat on which Gore was caretaker and had given him a bottle containing whiskey. This was denied by Hodgkinson who said that he had been aboard the boat but once and in company with a motion picture company official who was attempting to secure permission to use the boat in a picture that was being filmed in the harbor.

The film official, called to the witness stand denied that the police official had given whiskey to Gore on that visit.

Alex. P. Nelson, attorney for Gore, based his defense on the fact that remarks made by Gore were made at a regularly organized meeting and were but a repetition of charges already made before the city council.

Mrs. Stanford, suffering from lacerations about the head and face, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, while the others were removed to the Orange County hospital for treatment.

DEATH THREAT BASIS OF DIVORCE SUIT

Alleged acts of cruelty ranging from staying out all night up to reaching for a pistol and threatening to slay his wife with it, were contained in a complaint filed yesterday by Mrs. Thelma Otey in a suit for divorce from her husband, building contractor of Balboa.

The gun episode, according to Mrs. Otey's complaint occurred on the night of January 12, last, the night before she and her husband separated. She said that her husband told her he would kill her and reached for a revolver.

The couple married in West Virginia in 1920.

CLARK SELLERS TO SPEAK HERE

Two noted speakers, Judge Charles W. Fricke, judge of the Los Angeles superior court, at present sitting on the appeal bench, and J. Clark Sellers, examiner of questioned documents, will be heard the evening of June 8 when the Orange County Peace Officers association holds its regular monthly meeting at the American Legion hall in Santa Ana. It was announced today. Dinner will be served by the Legion Auxiliary at 6:30 p. m.

Judge Fricke is said to be one of the most competent jurists in this section, having had long experience on the bench and before the bar. He has also had broad experience as a prosecutor and knows the viewpoint of the law enforcement officer.

Sellers, called to testify in many famous cases, will hold the interest of members and guests with his intimate descriptions of crimes and how the little things in crime often betray the perpetrator. Both speakers were obtained for the meeting through invitations extended by Sheriff Logan Jackson, who is chairman of the program committee.

George Stinson, the well known "singing cop" will be featured in the entertainment program. Sheriff Jackson has also arranged for the appearance of several other singers and vaudeville artists who will take part in the program.

DRIVER IS HELD ON FELONY COUNT

John Daniel Reynolds, 51, of Corona, was bound over to the superior court this morning, when he was arraigned in the court of Judge A. W. Swayze. A felony charge was brought against Reynolds by Chief of Police B. F. Richards, who is making a determined drive against drunken drivers and who arrested the man after the machine he was driving collided with one driven by Virgil Sudbrook. Reynolds was alleged to have been intoxicated at the time of the accident, which occurred May 26, at the intersection of South Olive street and West Chapman avenue.

Dr. J. C. Crawford, William Vickers, Alfonso Cervantes and Virgil were called as witnesses. Reynolds was unable to make bail of $1500 and was taken to the Orange county jail.

TESTIMONY TAKEN IN DAMAGE SUIT

Demands of Ruth Janis Conley, 10-year-old Los Angeles girl, for $15,000 damages for injuries received when she was struck by an automobile driven by Otto Knoche, manager of the Irvine warehouse at Irvine, are being laid before a jury today in department two of the superior court.

According to testimony presented, the child was seriously injured several months ago when she was struck by Knoche's automobile as she was walking across a Los Angeles street intersection with her brother.

She is seeking an interlocutory decree of divorce, custody of the minor child of the couple, money for support of the child and an automobile she lists as community property.

Fee Cancellation Request Denied

Petition of Charles Haven of Garden Grove to permit unemployed men to sell fruit along the highways was denied Tuesday by the board of supervisors. Haven had requested this cancellation of fees in an effort to secure relief for the many men now without employment he said.

In denying his request the supervisors pointed out that through licensing peddlers the county could control them and said that cancellation of license fees would be impossible.

TOASTMASTERS TAKE HONORS AT CONVENTION

Reports from the convention of Toastmasters International, held last week end at San Diego, occupied the attention of the local Toastmasters club in their meeting last evening. Reports were given by Dwight Hamilton and W. J. Ferris, covering the activities of the convention, which took steps to forward the general work of Toastmasters clubs in various ways.

Special interest centered on the fact that Santa Ana Toastmasters carried off the honors of the convention. Frank Humphrey won second place in the speaking contest, and brought home as a prize a handsome electric clock, which was especially appropriate in view of the fact that his theme was "Tempus Fugit." The Santa Ana club won the attendance prize, given to the existing club with the largest delegation present. This prize is a timing lamp, for use in limiting the length of speeches, and is rightly prized by the local club.

First place in the speaking contest was won by Paul Demaree, of Anaheim, so that Orange county Toastmasters were credited with sweepstakes honors for the convention, an appropriate circumstance for the county which contains the birthplace of the organization.

Last night's program was conducted by I. W. MacFarlane, as toastmaster. The speakers were Dr. R. O. Grover, Wilfred Taylor, Alfred Ault, J. Lee Hewitt, A. A. Brock and R. C. Smedley, who were heard in discussions of topics of timely interest.

Clouds Threaten; Drizzle Follows

Old man weather who has been trying to squeeze out a little rain for several days almost got around to it this morning when a light drizzle floated out of black clouds. It succeeded only in dampening windows and fixing a skum on dusty automobiles. The precipitation was not enough to measure. Hill & Son reported.

Police News

K. Kelly, 24, who was arrested at 11:30 o'clock last night by officers who found him drunk in an alley between Main and Bush streets, according to records on file at the police station, is on suspended sentence from Police Judge J. G. Mitchell's court.

FILIPINOS IN NEW SHOOTING AFFRAY HERE

Bad feeling between Filipinos and Mexicans in the west part of the city broke out again last night when Filipinos who live at 1907 West Fifth street fired several shots, according to Captain Jess Buckles who last night investigated a report of the affair.

The trouble between the Mexicans and Filipinos started over labor matters in the western part of the county, it is reported. Joe McAlama, who resides at 1807 West Fifth street, was warned by officers last night not to shoot any more unless it was in defense of the home and not to carry guns or the Filipinos would be arrested.

Mexicans in the district were badly frightened over the reported shooting, although no one was reported to have been hit by bullets.

MAN SOUGHT AS OWNER OF STILL FOUND AT H. B.

Sought by sheriff's office since October 23 when he escaped after a raid on his home on Katella road had netted officers a 50-gallon still and a large quantity of whiskey, Charles Hicks was arrested late yesterday in Huntington Beach by Undersheriff Charles Riggie.

At the time of the raid, officers found the still buried beneath the ground and also found nearly 75 gallons of whiskey buried under the floor of the barn on the property and outside of the barn Hicks was away at the time of the raid, having just left the house to walk to the store. Members of the family went to the store and warned him and he made good his escape.

Since that time officers have been seeking Hicks, who had not been seen until he was found in Huntington Beach yesterday.

Arraigned before Judge Kenneth E. Morrison today, date for Hicks' preliminary examination was set for June 8 at 9 a. m. Bail was set at $3000, which was not made and he was committed to the county jail. He is charged with possession and operation of a still.

Foreclosure On Five Lots Asked

Because two Fullerton property owners failed to pay installments due last January on improvement bonds, the Los Angeles Bond and Securities company has declared the entire amounts of the assessments due and filed suit in superior court to foreclose on the five lots involved. E. S. Gregory and Vern A. Baker were named defendants in the actions. The total amount demanded in the two suits is $115.66.

The assessments were for installation of sewers on Basque avenue, Buena Vista drive, Rose drive and other streets in the city. Gregory, owner of four lots, is sued for $117.61 and an additional $20 fee for title search. Baker, owner of one lot, is sued for $23.03 and an additional $5 for title search.

MAKES APPEAL COUNTY ROADS FOR DONATIONS DISCUSSED FOR FOR JOBLESS BREAKFASTERS

The wide scope of the activities and an explanation of the operations of the Unemployed association of Santa Ana, was made public today in a statement issued by T. A. Broderick, chairman of the local group who also represents the district in the county organization. Following is the statement made by Chairman Broderick:

"Through our commissary at 112 West Third street, 556 families were served during the week ended last Saturday, representing 2295 individuals. Truly a staggering figure. We are in need of anything and everything you may have to offer in the way of donations, cash donations being particularly desirable. Checks should be made payable to J. F. Burke, treasurer.

"Naturally the ultimate solution of this problem must come through employment, and any of you who can possibly furnish employment to anyone, even though it be for but an hour, a day, a week, month or permanently will be doing much to remedy the situation. If everyone did this it would soon end the unemployment problem.

"You can also assist in a large way by a support of the various entertainments which are being put on for the unemployed, such as the benefit high school football game next Saturday."

Orange county's road problems, in general, and the proposed extension of South Main street to Corona Del Mar were discussed this morning at the weekly meeting of Santa Ana Breakfast club. The program was in charge of Dr. C. D. Hall who introduced as speakers Nat Neff, county highway superintendent; R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau; Phil Stanton, state highway commissioner; Charles Rutledge, president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce; and George Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Extension of South Main street to Corona Del Mar, paving of the road with decomposed granite and a macadam top would cost approximately $110,000 Neff said. This estimate and nothing definite at this time.

The Irvine company has agreed to give a right-of-way across its property providing the county completes the paving within a definite time. This offer was made sometime ago but because of unsettled economic conditions the county has not accepted as the supervisors do not want to pledge themselves to an additional expense, Neff said.

Project Not Abandoned The project has not been abandoned however and when business conditions improve extension of this highway which will cut approximately two and one half miles from the route to Laguna Beach will again be taken under consideration. Practically the entire extension would be through Irvine property and contribution of the right-of-way would eliminate a major portion of the expense, it was explained.

Flaherty spoke in connection with the Farm Bureau policy on road tax particularly as it relates to the 40 cent road tax now imposed. He said that the Farm Bureau is advocating reduction of the tax to 10 cents to be used for maintenance of side roads in the unincorporated areas and urged that the gasoline tax funds be used for maintenance of main traveled highways. The present highway system, he said is adequate for the present without immediate expansion or extension.

Flaherty declared that since agriculture paid the major portion of the expense incurred in building the county highway system during the days when farm traffic was the big item, it is not fair to ask agriculture to pay the heavy portion of the cost for maintenance, now that urban traffic has taken the lead.

He called attention to the fact that when business in all lines was prosperous many road districts were formed for extension of the highway system and that these districts are pledged to pay off bonds for this improvement. Because of these pledges, he said, the Farm Bureau is of the opinion that more special districts should be discouraged.

Cost $14,000,000 The Farm Bureau study of road problems started in 1919, he said and revealed that in 12 fiscal years expansion and extension of the county road system has cost almost 14 million dollars. Of this amount 11 millions were paid from property tax and the balance through the gasoline tax, he said. Of the amount paid through property tax, he said more than nine million came from the unincorporated areas.

Stanton spoke briefly declaring that of the entire state Orange county is the one white spot today and that the position the county holds is principally due to its roads. Relative to state help in connection with linking the proposed Main street extension to the highway from Riverside, Stanton said that additional roads, other than those already designated cannot be taken into the state secondary highway system without new legislation, but that if the county is willing to help finance the connecting link it might be possible for the state to work out some method of aid.

Music on the program this morning was provided by Miss Georgia Belle Walton, violinist and Alan Revell, pianist.

Set $1000 Bail On Liquor Defendant

Marcus Belarde, charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was arraigned before Judge Kenneth E. Morrison, justice of the peace, yesterday afternoon.

Date of the preliminary examination was set for June 8 at 9 a. m. with bail set at $1000. Bail was not made and the defendant was lodged in the county jail to await examination.

He was arrested by State Officer B. A. Craig on May 31 near Midway City on the Huntington Beach boulevard.

MRS. CARL MOCK CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY POST PROGRAM FOR WILLARD GRADS IS COMPLETED

Mrs. Louise G. Mock, wife of Carl Mock, local real estate broker, today announced her candidacy for the Republican nomination for assembly from the 74th district, comprised of the first, fourth and fifth supervisorial districts.

Mrs. Mock is a native daughter of Santa Ana, being the daughter of the late Charles and Lottie Grouard. She is a graduate of the local schools, the Los Angeles Teachers' college and studied law at Southwestern university. She is a past matron of Santa Ana chapter of the Eastern Star, past president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, legislative chairman of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs and vice chairman of the campaign committee of the Metropolitan Water district at the time of the bond issue.

She is state vice president of the California League of Women Voters.

In her statement Mrs. Mock declared she expects to accept the platform adopted by the national convention of the Republican party as her standard for the national issues relating to her campaign.

Mrs. Mock has made a study of public and legislative matters particularly as regards taxation and state and local water conditions, the statement says.

CITY COUNCIL ACCEPTS DEED TO PARK STRIP

In spite of reports that the city of Laguna Beach had refused to accept a deed of gift from the supervisors to a strip of land on Cliff drive, for park purposes, because of a heavy street assessment against the property, the Laguna Beach city council last night adopted a resolution unanimously, formally accepting the deed. The strip is 1300 feet long and 65 feet wide and runs along a bluff between Aster and Beach streets.

Originally it was a part of a 100-foot right-of-way called Electric way, obtained from the county by the Pacific Electric when it was planned to extend the line of the railway from Newport Beach to Laguna Beach. Later this was abandoned. When the Cliff section was resubdivided, the Cliff drive extended to Laguna canyon, only the north 25 feet of the right-of-way was used, the remaining portion of the 60-foot street being taken from the property on the north side of the street. The 65-foot strip then became "No Man's Land." It had not been dedicated for park purposes. But still it was owned by the county. So the deed of gift was offered to Laguna Beach.

The information that Laguna Beach did not care for the strip of land was given to the county board of supervisors Tuesday by the Municipal Securities company.

Jack Blakeney, former football star of the Santa Ana high school team, was appointed chief life-guard on recommendation of Thomas A. Cummings, president of the Laguna Beach auxiliary of the Santa Ana Red Cross chapter. One additional guard was named for this season, the others being Bruce Handy, Richard Malone and Edward Hobart.

After a lengthy discussion over salary cuts, to effect economies, the matter was put over until a later meeting.

The council refused to approve the map of a proposed subdivision in Oil Well canyon, just outside of the city limits. It was sent by the secretary of the Orange County Planning commission for action, after it had been offered to that body by the Laguna Heights Land company. City Engineer Frank P. Gowen reported adversely on the map, declaring that access to many of the lots would be gained only through narrow lanes.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. Buy a box of liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

STUDEBAKER WINS 3rd PLACE IN INDIANAPOLIS 500-MILE RACE!

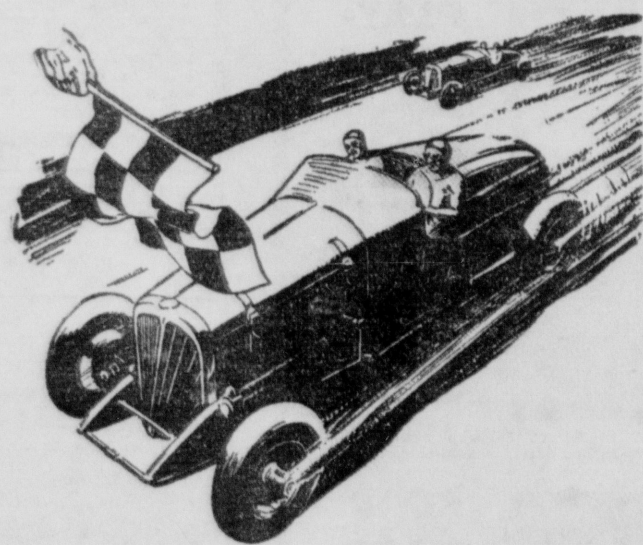

Studebaker time—

102.662 miles per hour—

beats all former track records

Bergere in Studebaker exceeds best time of all first place winners of 21 historic Memorial Day Races.

Studebaker also takes 6th and 13th places in field of forty of world's fastest and costliest racers.

ONCE again Studebaker shatters tradition! All of the Studebaker team were regular stock President Eight's, with the following modifications to conform to racing requirements: cylinder heads were altered for higher compression ratio, magnetos were substituted for battery ignition, 4 special down-draft carburetors were installed, racing manifolds, spark plugs and bodies were used.

Motor blocks, front and rear axles, clutches, steering gears, brakes and transmissions were all of strictly stock manufacture.

This showing of a "family motor car" against a field of costly hand-built racing machines dramatizes the astonishing stamina and performance ability which have won for Studebaker its virtual monopoly of official stock car records.

A monopoly climaxed by that record of records... 30,000 miles in 26,326 consecutive minutes—by the official records of America's 39 most famous mountain climbs—all made by 100 per cent stock cars, certified by the A. A. A.

Instead of depending on mere advertising claims, Studebaker thus proved value, providing an insurance policy, to the prospective Studebaker owner, that a standard stock Studebaker has already done more than he will ever ask his car to do. Be hard to please. Own a Champion. Don't be satisfied with less.

POOL MAY NOT BE OPENED FOR SUMMER USE

Verbal request on behalf of the unemployed association to use the high school baseball diamond during the day was temporarily refused by the Santa Ana board of education at its last meeting. In refusing the permit at this time members of the board declared that it would be granted as soon as school closes for the year.

The request to use the diamond mornings before 8 o'clock was made on behalf of the unemployed group that is sponsoring a baseball league to raise funds for their commissary for needy families. The teams play Sunday games at the Eddie Martin Airport and requested use of the high school diamond for practice.

Dr. Percy Davis, superintendent of schools, said that he has had several reports made to him from various schools that groups of men attempt to use the school grounds to play baseball during school hours. One report, he said, was made to him from Lincoln school where two teams from Anaheim appeared and insisted on playing. They declared that they had been given permission to use the grounds by the school board. It was pointed out that the board has issued such permits to no organization or individual.

The possibility of reopening the swimming pool at the high school this year to the public was discussed but no action taken pending further investigation as to the cost of operation. A new state law which, according to Davis, requires all bathing suits worn in public pools must be laundered after every swim may be the stumbling block.

Forbidding the use of private suits would force the school board to purchase approximately 200 new suits and the necessary increase in rental for the suits might reduce the number of swimmers using the pool.

'BUFFALO' JR. FINDS FOLK OF INDIAN BELIEF

There is nothing "stazy" about Buffalo Bill Jr. or his stagecoach, Fred Thompson, who conclude an engagement at the Fox Broadway theater tonight.

Buffalo Bill Jr., 196 pounds, is a real cowboy. Although no relation to the man whose name he bears, Buffalo Bill Jr. was born on a ranch in Wyoming and "punched" in that section until he went into pictures several years ago. He has appeared in almost a hundred western films.

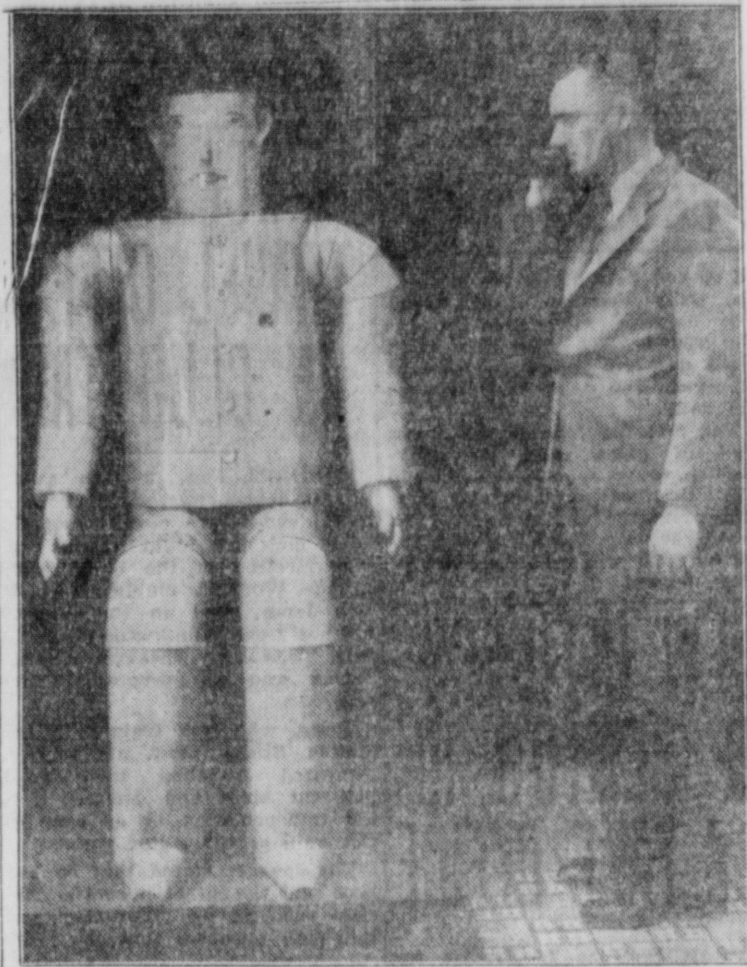

Interviewed at the Broadway today, Buffalo Bill Jr. recited amusing instances of his recent "personal appearance" tour east. He said he was amazed to learn that many easterners still consider the Far West as "bad man" country where even Indians still roam the plains.

Thompson is the man who has been driving a 50-year-old Concord stagecoach with a six-horse team about Santa Ana's streets, advertising "Buffalo's" appearance. There is nothing phoney about him either. Thompson, 51, has been driving a stagecoach since he was 14, doing most of his work out of Challa, Silver City and Delama, Ida., and Deadwood City, S. D. He also operated in Yellowstone National park and Glacier National park.

MECHANICAL MAN TO PERFORM

The robot which performs many interesting stunts at the command of the human voice will make its first appearance in Santa Ana at the Robuck and Devey display room, 515 North Main street, tomorrow. Willie Vocalite, as it is known, is shown here with his inventor, J. M. Barnett, Westinghouse engineer, of Mansfield, Ohio.

MOBILIZATION OF LEGION TO BE CALLED SOON

The scurrying of Legionnaires through the streets of Santa Ana during either of the next two Sundays will not mean a real disaster, but a preparedness measure for training in the event that a calamity should occur. It was announced today by Rodney Bacon, commander of the Santa Ana Legion post, who wants to see how fast the boys can "get there" should something really happen and the great organization of the Legion be needed for relief work.

Santa Ana's part will be but a unit of the entire practice emergency call, with 455 other Legion posts in the state participating. The call will come on a Sunday not later than June 12, it is said. In Santa Ana, three bombs will be fired from the city hall by police to sound the call to Legion men to mobilize immediately at the Legion hall, register and be prepared to go through with any procedure they are instructed to do by the governor, who will broadcast instructions and also send telegrams to all post emergency committees.

KREG will also be used in broadcasting the call to local Legionnaires, according to Commander Bacon. No one knows when the call will come, but all Legion men are expected to be prepared to answer the call at once, dropping their regular affairs to assist in the emergency. Other means of notification are also to be used.

Warren K. McCarty is chairman of the local emergency committee, and will be assisted by various other post members and organizations in case of an emergency call.

Trophies and medals are to be awarded for the best showings by posts and districts.

ROBOT TO BE HERE FRIDAY TO PERFORM

The sensational robot developed by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, will appear in Santa Ana for the first time tomorrow at the display room of Robuck and Devey, 515 North Main street. Mr. Vocalite, as it is known, will show those visiting the show how science has made the story of the Colossus of Rhodes come true.

"Willie" is a member of the famous Westinghouse family of Robots. He was conceived and designed by J. M. Barnett, member of the Westinghouse Engineering department in Mansfield, Ohio.

Vocalite differs from all previous mechanical men in that he answers to requests given in the human voice. For instance, if you want him to turn on a vacuum cleaner, you tell him to do so. This is done in as few words as possible because the mechanical brain of the creature disdains grammatical forms and demands only the essential parts of speech. And, too, "Willie" has a voice. Upon command he can sing an aria from an opera or do the latest "torch" song. He is extremely apt at making speeches.

Most of "Willie's" actions are performed through his intricate electrical brain through methods imperceptible and incomprehensible to the layman's brain. However, he does do some things that are clearly visible and understandable. For instance, if ladies are present he can arise. Of course, his master, Barnett, is forced to remind him of his manners, but "Willie" is very young. Once having arisen, "Willie" will remain at attention indefinitely or until told to seat himself again.

Being an electrical sort of a person, "Willie" is very adept at turning on electrical devices. If you had "Willie" in your home he could operate an electrical apparatus to close the window in the morning. Or he could, upon command, tune in any station you requested on the radio. During the time he is here Mr. Vocalite will, upon command of Barnett, do such things as turning a radio, turning on a vacuum cleaner and the lights. These particular jobs were selected because the audience can easily see that he is following the commands of his master. He could with equal ease perform numerous other tasks.

"Willie," as was explained, answers to spoken commands. Those commands are issued into an ordinary telephone mouthpiece. This telephone, however, is not connected electrically with the mechanical brain of the robot. Instead, Barnett has arranged the robot so that a six-foot beam of light carries his voice across the stage to a photo-electric cell or "electric eye" in the mechanical brain. The commands go into the telephone and thence to a mechanism which translates them into a beam of light. Across the beam of light they go to the extremely sensitive tube which relays them on the mass of electrical relays that make up "Willie's" brain. This brain accepts the commands, adjusts itself, then performs the operation indicated.

Plant Trees In Fullerton Park

FULLERTON, June 2.—Commemorating the George Washington bicentennial, representatives of the Girl Reserves of the grammar school clubs of Northern Orange county district planted three trees Tuesday afternoon in Hillcrest park. The trees planted were a magnolia, jacaranda and a scarlet eucalyptus.

A poem was read by Bonnie Billingsley of the Girl Reserves of the Fullerton Christian church and Joyce Dowd made the presentation speech. "Trees" was sung by Bonnie McGovern and Mayor W. L. Hale accepted the trees in behalf of the city of Fullerton. The flag ceremonial was under the direction of Miss Johanna Lemke in the Isak Walton cabin. A number of songs were sung by the group from Buena Park. Howard Spohn Jr., a four-year-old boy, gave several cowboy songs. Two playlets were presented by the girls from the Fullerton Methodist Episcopal group which included Barbara Berger, Jeanne Freck, Patricia Hadewig, Nancy Gillen, Jean Launer, Ruth Richardson, Dorothy Jenkins, Jacqueline Sterrett, Carol Campbell, Dorothy West, Frances Nelson, Dora May Hale, Jane Basma and Lorraine Black.

Do you inhale?

Three little words
that "upset the apple cart"
in the cigarette trade

DO you inhale? Can any question be simpler? And yet—what a furore it has created! The cigarette trade feels that the public has been let in on a sacrosanct secret! "You've upset the apple cart," they say.

Why such anxiety? Certainly the public doesn't fear the question—for everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly... every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes!

SAFETY OF AIR TRAVEL CITED IN CLUB TALK

ORANGE, June 2.—The safety of air travel was stressed in a talk given before members of the 20-36 club last night at the regular meeting of the organization at the Woman's clubhouse, when Ben Jones, pilot on the Wrigley Airlines from Wilmington to Catalina, was the speaker. Norall Evans was the program chairman.

Jones, who was trained in the United States navy air service, compared traveling methods of different kinds and declared that air transportation is as safe as the train or the motor variety.

The speaker stated that he had been on the great aircraft carriers such as the "Saratoga" and told club members that the "Hell divers" was one of the few air-liners which pictured exact operations of the air service and that scenes were not faked as they are in some productions. He explained how the airships are landed on the carrier by cables and of the precautions taken to insure safety.

The next meeting of the club will be a joint one with the Fulcrum 20-30 club at McFarland's cafe on June 8. Owing to this meeting the election of a delegate to the state convention was postponed until June 15. Glen Osborne played several solos and group singing was led by Clifford Swedborg.

At the People's Mass Meeting

SANTA ANA HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM,
MONDAY, JUNE 6, 7:30 P. M.

He will offer you a constructive program whereby the PEOPLE may save themselves from oppression, from confiscation of property, from serfdom, from Communism, from riots and anarchy.

We have learned that the so-called "leaders" don't help us; that Washington can't help us; that Wall Street bankers won't help us.

We must quit looking helplessly to these sources for aid in our troubles. Instead we must revive the pioneer spirit of Americanism and patriotism, and DO THE JOB OURSELVES—WE, THE PEOPLE!

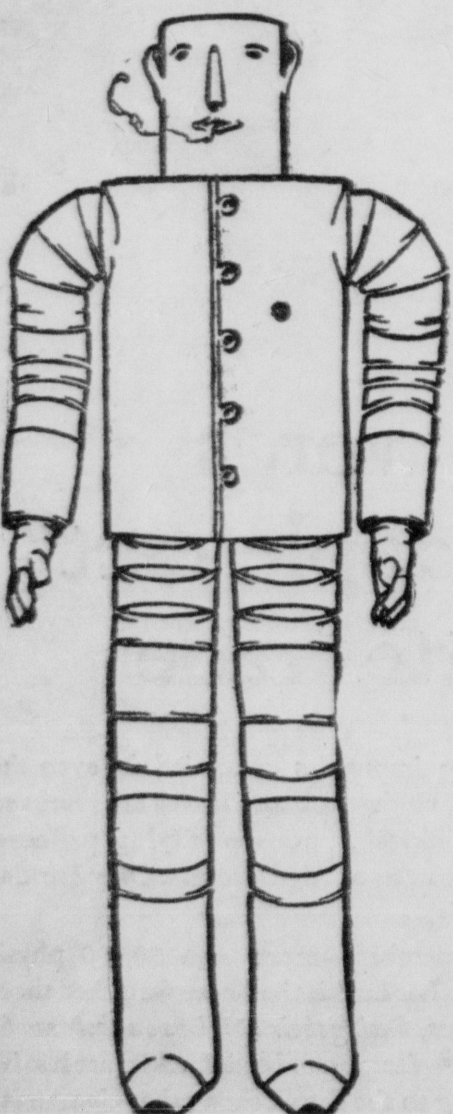

Your property, your homes, your profession, your job, your independence, your county is in danger. Shall we go forward courageously, calmly, and constructively, or shall we drift idly until destructive forces take full command?

America must get back to fundamentals, and the time is NOW!

Cravath Defends Work In Resigning As Laguna Judge

DR. LESTRANGE APPOINTED BY CITY COUNCIL

LAGUNA BEACH, June 2.—Declaring that he had refused to be dictated by the police commissioner of Laguna Beach and defending himself against the charges made by members of the city council that he was too lenient in assessing traffic fines, City Judge C. C. (Gavy) Cravath, former home run king of the National league, tendered his resignation in a letter that was read at the meeting of the city fathers last night.

The judge announced that throughout his administration of the office he has had in mind the best interests of the city as a whole and has made hundreds of friends for Laguna Beach and "have given this city a reputation that is second to none in being fair to our citizens and our many visitors." The resignation of Judge Cravath was requested by the city council at its meeting May 15. Members of the council pointed to the fact that the total fines in Laguna Beach last year were less than $1800, while in San Clemente they were more than $10,000.

Cravath's resignation was accepted by the council and Dr. M. Lestrangle, an optometrist, was appointed to the office. M. R. McMillan, police commissioner of the city, made no comment on Cravath's letter.

Cravath retains his position as justice of the peace of Laguna Beach township, a position to which he was elected.

His letter to the council follows:

"I have your request for my resignation as city recorder.

"It has been charged that, as city recorder, I did not impose fines of such proportions as to finance the city or its police department.

"The honorable mayor of this city has referred to the fact that the city of San Clemente has derived a large revenue from fines imposed, in traffic violations cases, by the city recorder of that city. I would like to state a few facts.

"Checking over the number of cases handled by myself during the past three years, I find that the recorders court of Laguna Beach has had 350 cases cited to appear for traffic violations. During this same period of time, the recorders court of the city of San Clemente has handled about 2200 cases.

"In justice to the police departments of the two cities, I would like to state that San Clemente has two traffic officers

Hill Leases 2300 Acres For Grazing

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 2.—Walter Hill, son of the late James J. Hill, Pacific northwest railroad builder, has leased 2300 acres of San Juan Capistrano land for grazing purposes, according to Arlie Leck, who had charge of the negotiations. Hill, who conducts a ranch at Midway City, needed more grazing land for his stock, so leased 2000 acres from John and Frank Forster and 300 acres from Leck. The lease was for three years.

Leck said that Hill had taken no option on the land and that he did not know of the cattleman contemplating establishing a ranch on the south coast. It is known that Hill favors coast grazing land for his stock and it is possible that within a few years he may buy land in this section for the establishment of a high class stock farm.

that are on duty from 16 to 24 hours per day, while Laguna Beach has one traffic officer only, who works eight hours per day on traffic. The traffic in our city is handled as well as, and probably better, than any resort city in Southern California. We have had no serious traffic accidents within the city limits during the past five years. I might add no deaths.

"It has also been charged that I am unnecessarily lenient. If being charitable to my fellow men in certain cases where it seemed to me justice should be tempered with mercy was being lenient, then I plead guilty.

"The police commissioner of this city has stated that I was hard-headed and refused to listen to him. It is true I refused to listen to the police commissioner. As city recorder I refused to be dictated to. Any judge of any court that will be dictated to or dominated or influenced by any official or politician or any other person, is not fitted to sit in judgment on his fellow men.

"I would invite you to make an honest comparison of the salary paid to the city recorder of this city with the salaries paid to recorders of other near by cities. In the case of San Clemente the city recorder of that city receives a number of times the $25 per month which the city recorder of this city receives.

"Gentlemen, I have put in five years on the police bench of this city and during that time rendered judgment, not only as the merits of the various cases have required but also have kept in mind the best interests of the city as a whole. I have made hundreds of friends for the city and have given this city a reputation that is second to none in being fair to our citizens and our many visitors.

"I have no regrets, nor apologies to make in tendering my resignation as city recorder of the city of Laguna Beach. I want to take this means, however, to correct the impression that I am resigning as justice of the peace of Laguna Beach township, which position is elective, not appointive. The justice of the peace office will be conducted by me in the same efficient and courteous manner, and for the interests of the people of Laguna Beach township, which includes the city of Laguna Beach.

"Gentlemen, I thank you."

BEACH CHURCH WORK SLATED TO BEGIN SOON

NEWPORT BEACH, June 2.—The Methodist Episcopal church of the Newport harbor district, which has meeting places in both Newport Beach and Balboa, has just held its fourth quarterly conference, with district superintendent, the Rev. J. A. Geisinger, in charge of the meeting.

At this meeting the present pastor, the Rev. Russell Stroup, was given an unanimous vote asking him to stay for another year. The Mr. Rev. Stroup will not be asked to take a cut in salary and will be sent to conference this month with a report of a budget paid in full.

The church has purchased a group of lots in the El Razo tract here at a cost of $11,000 and this week made the final payment on them. Architect Frank Stevenson, of San Diego, is working on plans for a new church, the first unit of which they hope to be ready to start early in July.

The church has been meeting in temporary quarters for a period of several months, but in spite of this handicap the Sunday school has grown and now has a regular attendance of about 200.

The Woman's Aid society of the church, operating in four divisions, reports a membership of 95, having raised $500. The Balboa island division is under the leadership of Mrs. Maud Henry, the Corona Del Mar division under Mrs. F. A. Stowell, the Newport Beach division under Mrs. Alfred Smith, and the Newport Heights division is under Mrs. F. E. Russell.

Mrs. Cox, president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, reported a continual growth in that organization since its organization last July. The society has a membership of 50 members.

The church services at present are held in the Balboa chapel, Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. and preaching at 11 a. m.; and in a residence property belonging to Mrs. Stowell on Ocean Front between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth streets, preaching services at 9:45 and Sunday school at 10:45 a. m. The evening services are all held at the Newport Beach address at 7:30 o'clock.

LETTER TELLS OF VIENNA CONDITIONS

FULLERTON, June 2.—The Rev. Graham C. Hunter, pastor of the Fullerton Presbyterian church, has just received a letter from Emma Cadbury from Vienna which shows some of the troubled conditions now existing in that part of the Europe. Miss Cadbury is a Quaker leader in Europe, being in charge of the International Friends society in Vienna.

The letter in part is as follows: "Since you were here Central Europe has continued to go through many throes, but one feels, as Bruening says in his speech yesterday, that there is hope in the very rapidity with which the crisis has developed in the last few months.

"I am hoping that the United States may have a share in helping to turn the corner. There seems great need of a reversal of the present policy of national isolation and of a new policy which may mean not only generosity, but self-sacrificing on the part of all, especially of so large a nation as our own."

Arrange Exercises For Mission City School Graduates

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 2.—J. S. Malcom, principal of the San Juan Capistrano Union high school, has announced the program for graduation week. On Sunday, June 12, Dr. Hobart Hogarth, vicar of St. Clement's-by-the-Sea, at San Clemente, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at 8 o'clock in the evening. A senior assembly will be held on Wednesday, June 15, at which honors for the year will be distributed. Later there will be an exhibition of the vocational arts and the physical education department.

Commencement will be held at 8 o'clock the evening of June 17. The seniors will have charge of the exercises. Seventeen students will receive their diplomas at the exercises.

On Friday of next week the senior and junior classes will hold their annual banquet at A. Travaglia's cafe at San Clemente. More than 50 students, members of the faculty and school board will attend. Dorothy Lape, of San Clemente, is president of the junior class and Marilyn Snyder is president of the senior class.

CAPISTRANO HIGH TEACHER APPOINTED

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 2.—Vernon Augustin has been appointed by the Capistrano Union High school board as an instructor in mathematics and dramatic art for the coming year. The appointment was made after the school board meeting held last night. A friend of Coach Stanley Gould, he assisted in coaching the Capistrano basketball team last year. He no doubt will devote time to assisting Gould with coaching duties next year, although he is not engaged for that work.

BUILDING FOR YEAR $157,360 IN BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, June 2.—Newport Beach is continuing this year to maintain its position as leader in building of all cities of its class in Southern California. For several years this community has been far ahead of all cities of similar size in the Southwest, each year and in nearly every individual month during that period.

During May the value of building permits totaled $24,125, bringing the total for the first five months of the year to $157,360. Although this was not up to the total for the corresponding period of the banner season of 1931, it was pointed out by realtors and builders that practically all the building for this entire year was for dwellings.

With new residences of the better class, pleasure boats of various kinds are also coming to Newport bay in larger numbers. Development of the harbor, building of the high school and the general program of improvement and advertising are credited as the chief reasons for the high position this city is maintaining in economic development.

Malcom To Attend Session At U. S. C.

SAN CLEMENTE, June 2.—J. S. Malcom, principal of the San Juan Capistrano Union High school, will attend a session of the principals of secondary schools in California to be held at the University of Southern California starting June 20. The course will take two weeks. Malcom also plans to take an additional four weeks work at U. S. C. on his doctor's degree.

439 Cars Of Oranges Shipped East

PLACENTIA, June 2.—Placencia packing houses have marketed 439 cars of oranges since the first of January, about 150 of which have been valencias.

According to F. J. Hixon, manager of the Co-Operative packing house, the market is looking brighter than anticipated at the opening of the season. His house is running about half time at present, as are the others, but is operating with a full crew.

Prices for oranges are ranging around $3.50 a box, the grower received about $1, after expenses except growing are met. Sizes are running better than last year.

After the first of July it is expected more fruit can be used in eastern markets, according to Hixon. At present Florida navel oranges are on the market, seriously interfering with the marketing of California valencias.

Four Students To Receive Diplomas At San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, June 2.—Four students of the San Clemente grammar school will receive their diplomas at exercises to be held at the school auditorium Friday night. Those to be honored follow: Betty Hopkins, Roy Divil, George Larson and Frank Woodman.

E. R. Bartlett, president of the school board, will award the diplomas. The program is in charge of Mrs. Hortense Vernon, principal.

SONORA—(UP)—W. J. Black and Charles White recently entered into a contract on a dairy deal. So their attorney put the proposition down in black and white.

SAME FEE FOR BEACH SERVICE CLUB, CHAMBER

NEWPORT BEACH, June 2.—At the meeting of the Newport Harbor Service club at Wednesday noon in the dining rooms of the Stag cafe, with J. P. Greeley in the chair, a committee report was read recommending that a fee of $10 as dues be sufficient to keep any member in good standing in the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and in the Newport Harbor Service club, and an amendment, which carried, was added to the original report saying that there will not be for some time to come, any entry fee for joining the club. Both club and chamber of commerce, however, will still retain their identity.

Fire Chief Frank Crocker, reporting on the progress of the spring cleanup situation, stated that the program is somewhat behind time and that because of an attempt at conservation of funds the project will have to be handled along more conservative lines than of former years, but that there will be a cleanup program launched to take effect between the dates of June 6 and 11. While on the floor Crocker made a motion that the club approve of the program, which motion was duly seconded and passed. Crocker further pledged the support of his department in the program.

The annual Tournament of Lights program was discussed and a motion that the club enter a float in the tournament was tabled and a committee of three: Ray Saunders, Irvin Gordon and John Siegel, was appointed to investigate and report at the next meeting.

President Greeley appointed Lew Wallace, Judge Leonard and S. H. Davidson as a nominating committee to report at the next meeting.

INDIANAPOLIS RACE

Proves SPEED AND POWER OF GILMORE

In the closest finish ever staged in any 500 mile Indianapolis Speedway classic, the "GILMORE LION HEAD SPECIAL", piloted by "Howdy" Wilcox, and using Gilmore Blue-Green treated Gasoline, won second place only a scant 44 seconds behind the winner.

A margin of 44 seconds is negligible in a race that took 4 hrs., 48 min., 37.79 seconds to run. The outcome is a great victory for Gilmore Gasoline making its first bid for national racing laurels against seasoned campaigners. It is an overwhelming tribute to the super-speed and power of Gilmore Blue-Green treated

Gasoline, especially when it is known that Gilmore staked its chances to win by supplying gasoline only to two out of the forty cars that started, and the two were small four-cylinder cars competing against expensive six and eight cylinder cars.

And remember, Gilmore is using racing cars on the speedways not merely to win races, but to definitely prove up the improvements that it is developing for Gilmore Blue-Green Gasoline.

In dazzling, record-breaking speed tests race drivers use Gilmore Lion Head Motor Oil.

PEACE PLAY IS PRESENTED AT JUNIOR COLLEGE

Presenting the last regular assembly of the year at the Santa Ana Junior college the Associated Students featured a one-act play, "Victory in Peace," written and directed by Mitchell Hookins, student in the local jaycee drama department. Besides directing his own show Hookins played the leading part. This was the first production of the piece.

Under the supervision of Ernest Crozier Phillips, head of the drama department at the jaycee, Hookins showed presented a scene in a large state prison during the war and the efforts of a group of people to persuade a peace-loving youth to enlist against his will. The show was exceptionally dramatic and moving and Hookins played the part as only the author of the act could.

Included in the cast were Jim Thompson as the warden, Douglas McAdam as the father, Althea Lambke as the mother, Leclé Siasback as the captain, Martha Hendricks as the sweetheart, Virginia Keller as a secretary and Howard Welch as a prison guard.

RIOTS UNKNOWN IN PRISON WHERE ENTERTAINMENT, FOOD AND WORK ARE PLENTIFUL

BY ROBERT TALLEY
FORT MADISON, Ia., June 2.—A jazz orchestra that plays at every meal in the main dining room.

A radio in every cell. Non-censored newspapers and magazines—even those containing stories and pictures of prison riots.

Smoking at any time or place, except in factories where it creates a fire hazard.

Free movies, of the men's own choosing.

Good food and plenty of it. And, above all, PLENTY OF WORK.

Work Stressed
Such is the unique system of solving prison problems that Warden Thomas P. Hollowell of Iowa's state penitentiary here—which has never had a riot or a convict outbreak of any kind—offers to other penal institutions that have experienced bloody clashes between armed guards and caged men.

"Other prisons have had their riots," says Warden Hollowell, "but I think we have a system that has the riot problem solved. We don't coddle our prisoners, but we give them enough liberties so they can't forget that they are still human beings. A prison can be strict in discipline without crushing men."

"The biggest item on our program, though, is plenty of work. The courts sentence men to come here and serve at hard labor, and we give it to them. When a prisoner has worked hard all day, he is ready to eat a good meal and go to sleep without wanting to raise hell and put a chunk under it."

"The labor problem cannot be solved, even in prisons, by installing the most modern labor saving machinery. What prisons need is work, and more work."

Holidays Off
Iowa's penitentiary, with 1500 inmates, is a beehive of industry. It operates a furniture factory, a hosiery mill, a clothing factory, shoe factory and various other shops. Every able-bodied man is employed.

The institution is not only self-supporting, says Warden Hollowell, but it permits convicts to earn money which they can send to their families while confined or save until their release to aid in getting a new start in life. Earnings of prisoners aggregate more than $50,000 a year.

The men have Saturday afternoons and holidays off.

Good Food
Of equal importance to plenty of work, says Warden Hollowell, is plenty of good food.

"Experience has shown that many prison riots have started in the dining room because the men were dissatisfied with poor food," he said. "We give them good food and plenty of it—a prisoner is allowed as many 'helpings' as he wants."

I stood in the main dining room and watched the men eat their noon meal, while the prison orchestra played away on a platform for their entertainment.

The menu for this luncheon consisted of roast prime beef, mashed potatoes, brown gravy, baked sugar corn, bread, sirup, coffee and cornstarch pudding as a dessert. Frequently, men mentioned to a waiter to bring them a second portion. In every case, they got it.

Breakfast that morning had consisted of ham omelette, steamed oatmeal with milk and sugar, brown gravy, stewed peaches, sirup and coffee. The supper menu in the evening contained fried bacon and eggs, scalloped potatoes, stewed raisins, bread, sirup and tea.

Radio in Each Cell
"A man with a stomach comfortably filled with good food isn't very likely to cause trouble—and, moreover, he deserves it if he is doing a hard day's work," said the warden. "We have our own farms and kill 14 hogs and 18 head of hogs each week to supply meat for the institution. In addition, we have our own cows to supply milk."

There is no overcrowding—a frequent source of prison trouble—as every prisoner has an individual cell, construction work having kept pace with the growing population. Each cell has a radio receiver, which is tuned in on programs that the men select for themselves.

They also choose their own movies, which are shown in the prison chapel, and their non-censored newspapers and reading matter.

Uncensored Papers
"How about newspapers containing news of prison riots?" I asked. "Are they permitted to enter?"

"Certainly," answered Hollowell. "The men would hear about these things, anyway, and it is better to let them read the facts instead of getting exaggerated and incorrect information on such things by a grapevine route." Warden Hollowell is convinced that his plan is a success for, he says, 95 per cent of the men released from Iowa's penitentiary make good in the outside world that lies beyond the bars.

Politically Speaking

BY HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., June 2.—(UP)—California's political scene was disturbed this week by a half dozen fights, all going on at the same time. Here are a few of the principal developments:

Assemblyman Harry Sewell of Whittier announced he would not seek re-election, thus leaving the field clear for Assemblyman Walter Little of Santa Monica for election as speaker of the assembly at the 1933 legislature.

Little lost the speakership to Edgar Levey of San Francisco by one vote at the 1931 session, because Sewell threw his support to Levey. Sewell's action probably will mean the selection of Assemblyman Percy West of Sacramento as speaker pro tem, as he stood with Little in the 1931 fight.

Governor Rolph delivered a fiery attack on the so-called "trick question" asked in state civil service examinations. Many state employees who have held office for years have been ousted from their jobs by college graduates and highly educated men who could pass the quizzes, Governor Rolph said.

Rolph advocated separating the civil service work from the department of finance, under which it now functions, and making it a full-fledged state department, with a director on the governor's cabinet. This will be discussed at a special hearing called by the governor on the subject.

State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson charged that Rolland A. Vandegrift, director of finances, had violated the state deposit act by depositing money in banks without security. This was promptly denied by Vandegrift's deputy, Harold Smith, during Vandegrift's absence from Sacramento.

Johnson asserted that $2,000,000 in state funds were on deposit in a bank with a paid up capital of only $200,000, and that no interest was paid the state on the deposit. Smith replied that such a sum was never on deposit for more than two or three days, as checks were drawn against it immediately.

A revolt among Democratic leaders in California broke out over the election of John B. Elliott of Los Angeles as the new Democratic national man from California. Elliott, a right-hand-man of William Gibbs McAdoo, who heads the Democratic delegates from California pledged to Speaker John N. Garner, was elected at a caucus in Southern California. At the same time McAdoo was made chairman of the delegation and the California committeeman to serve on the Democratic national platform committee.

"Our only hope now lies in the national convention, which has power to refuse to confirm Elliott's election," said James D. Meredith of Sacramento, secretary of the Democratic state central committee.

Political gossip: Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney, will nominate President Hoover at the coming Republican convention at Chicago. . . . J. P. Brennan of Oakland is the new state director of military and veterans' affairs. . . .

He was appointed to succeed Allen Bixby of Pasadena, who resigned to run for supervisor in Los Angeles. . . . Earl Lee Kelly has covered 7000 miles of state highway since becoming chairman of the state highway commission. . . . Six hundred miles more and he will have covered every mile of highway in the state.

Legislative Session May Result From Conference

WATER GROUPS TO MEET JUNE 4 IN ANAHEIM

With the increasing need for water in the state growing more apparent, and with water conservation uppermost in the minds of all serious-thinking citizens of the state, unusual interest is aroused throughout the state in connection with the joint meeting of the state legislature's water committee and the Economic Council of Southern California, which will be held in the Elks' clubhouse in Anaheim Saturday. Members of the governor's commission are also expected to attend the conference.

Importance of the recommendations made by the council at the meeting, when the state enabling act will be the target for discussion, along with other water problems, was emphasized today by Assemblyman Ted Craig, who is a member of the special legislative water committee.

Although the governor has as yet failed to develop any leadership, according to Assemblyman Craig, it is possible that he may be directly influenced to call a special session of the legislature to consider the proposed constitutional amendment which will enable special water districts to be formed throughout the state and use state credit for financing the projects, as a result of the meeting to be held in Anaheim.

In several previous statements, the governor has practically agreed to call a special session of the state legislature to consider the water conservation problem. Recently, however, he has been reported to have qualified his views.

Prompt Action Desired

The importance of speed has been emphasized by leaders in order to get the measure on the August primary ballot to prevent a two-year delay. Certain parts of the state are said to be without sufficient water now and are exceedingly anxious for steps to be taken to allow them to form districts and secure more water.

Perhaps the most important phase of the discussions Saturday will be the propriety of providing an enabling act, the constitutional amendment, which would set up the legal machinery necessary to get the matter of bonding districts and the formation of districts before the people of the state for vote. In the final analysis, according to Craig, the matter of bonded indebtedness of each proposed water district would be in the hands of the people of the entire state, according to the present draft of the bill.

A change in the period of time the water bonds would run has been made recently, according to Craig. The time has been extended to 70 years, which, he believes, would give ample time for the districts to pay back the money. By using state credit, millions of dollars could be saved in interest through lower interest rates, he said.

When districts organize themselves, they will have to show that the economic possibilities of the district will allow the payment of the bonds before the legislature votes on the matter. Then the matter must be passed by a two-thirds vote in both houses, must be signed by the governor and then submitted to the people for vote.

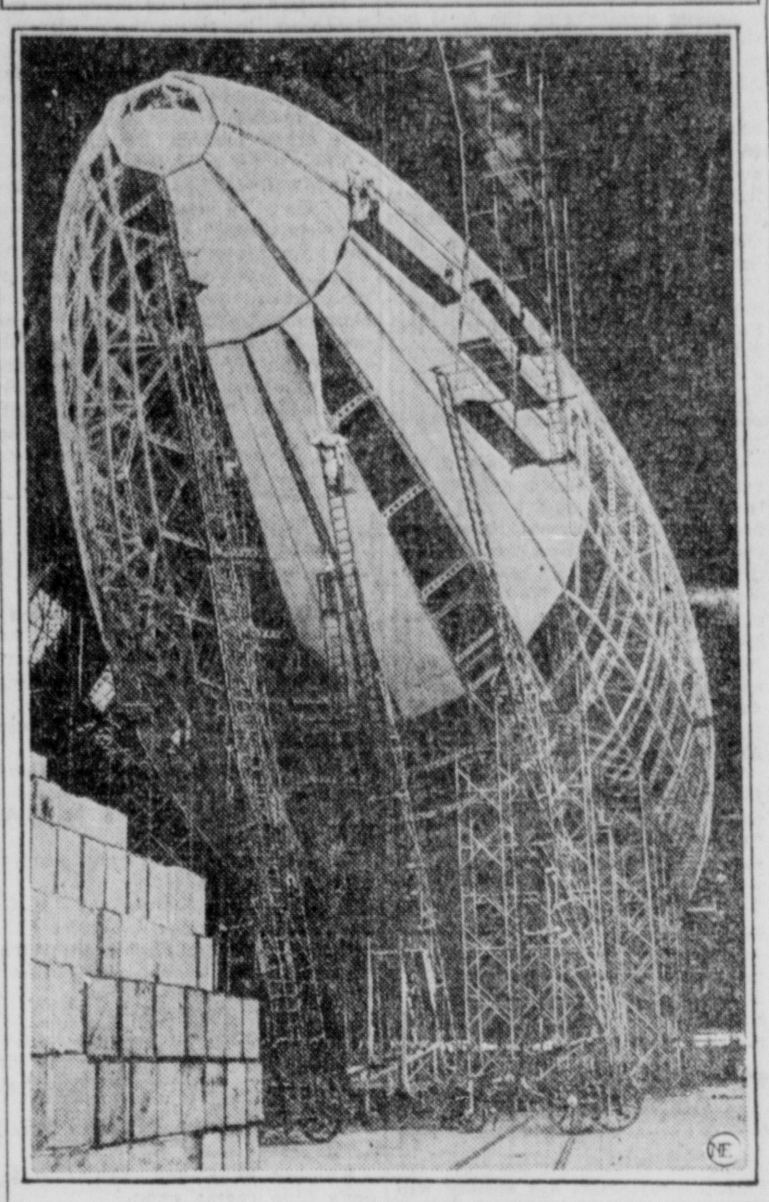

The only fly in the ointment, according to reports, is the fact that if the districts formed should default payment on their bonds, the money for redemption of the bonds would have to come from the general fund of the state treasury to insure the state's credit. This would mean that finally the taxpayers of the entire state would have to pay. However, with the 70 year period for payment, and the fact that five procedures must be gone through to insure the stability and economic dependability of the proposed districts, it was believed by the legislative water committee that the plan they have submitted is the least objectionable of any.

Taxpayers of this county were urged to attend the meeting and express their opinions freely on the matter. Orange county representatives of the Economic Council of Southern California are W. C. Jerome, of Santa Ana, Phil Stanton and Lotus London, Anaheim; Thomas Murphree, San Clemente, and O. T. Stephens, La Habra. Geo. A. Raymer is secretary of the Orange county delegation.

Representatives from Kern and Tulare counties are also expected to be present to further their interests in the water discussions.

COLLEGE HEAD SEEK WOUNDED TERMS WAR AS BURGLAR AFTER COSTLY FAILURE PISTOL BATTLE

Mingling their respects to 22 veterans of America's past wars with an expression that war, as a solution of international disputes is a costly failure, Santa Ana Kiwanians yesterday conducted their annual memorial services to the accompaniment of martial airs by the S. U. V. C. W. fifth and drum corps and the benediction of tape.

Veterans especially honored were the few remaining members of the dwindling ranks of the G. A. R. who as boys 14 and 15 years of age shouldered a musket and fought by the side of grown men in the memorable conflict to save a divided Union back in '61. One by one they were introduced.

Gray of head, their shoulders bent by the hand of time but their spirits unbowed by the approaching last roll call of the mustering in to the unknown. Six who were there last year had answered that last roll call during the last year.

The recognition ceremony was presided over by James Smart who introduced E. J. Jaqua, president of Scripps college for women at Pomona, who although a guest consented to make an impromptu address.

People Hate War

"Never in the history of the world has there been a time when so many people have hated war and stand ready to outlaw it. It has been proved that war has not worked out satisfactory. But that has nothing to do with our admiration for these veterans. President Jaqua declared, 'It who did their work for us well and are now awaiting to return into that boundless unknown from whence they came. It is perfectly consistent to mingle our admiration and respect for these veterans with a hatred for war,' he continued.

Calling attention to the fact that 64 per cent of the national budget is spent on wars past and future, President Jaqua said "that is something for us to think about. This depression should teach us all that we can not go on and survive with war. This may be construed as heresy but I hope this depression lasts long enough that we may learn something about the use of capital, administration of business, economics and wise dealing with individualism—a new definition of capital and socialism. No matter what you or I think, we have learned the world must come out of this depression with a new conception of the handling and use of huge funds."

Future For Women

Women, he pointed out, will in the future have a greater voice in economics and international relations. For proof he cited the fact that 60 per cent of all high school and 40 per cent of all college graduates are women and among this group are the majority of honor students. Forty per cent of all wealth, he said, is in the hands of women; 30 per cent of all insurance claims are paid to women and 64 per cent of all legacies are made in the names of women. "In the past we have given them little economic training but in the future their power will be great in the realms of politics, economics and international relations."

During a brief session President Fred Newcomb was elected club delegate to the national Kiwanis convention to be held at Detroit this month. Announcement was made of the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra concert to be held at the high school auditorium Thursday night and each Kiwanian urged to purchase two tickets to help wipe out a $200 deficit. Announcement was also made of a football game at the high school Saturday afternoon between last year's championship team and next year's team with proceeds to be split 50-50 between the high school student loan fund and the relief of unemployed.

MUSICIANS IN HARMONY AGAIN

Arturo Toscanini, famed conductor, gained more than gratitude when he came all the way from Italy to New York for a benefit concert for unemployed musicians. He also ended the 11-year rift in his friendship with Giulio Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera company. The celebrated pair once had been cronies and co-workers, but had become estranged in 1921. Here, however, you see them arm in arm as Gatti-Casazza, left, bade good-bye to Toscanini, right, as the latter returned to Europe.

RELATIVES GET NO NEWS OF BOY LOST ON RAFT

No definite word as to the fate of William Smith, 14-year-old Santa Ana boy who was carried out upon the tossing waters of the Salton Sea upon a raft Sunday, has been received by his relatives in Santa Ana.

Known here as "Billy" Smith, the youth had been attending Los Montecitos school at San Diego. Sunday he launched a raft on the Salton Sea while he and playmates were on a picnic. The boys had constructed the raft, which was swept out to sea by strong winds, drifting further and further from shore while Billy was tossed about on the raft.

His playmates summoned help but wind and waves prevented the launching of small motor-boats, the only craft available, before darkness fell.

A. H. Smith, father of the lost youth, lives at Bush and Eleventh street here. His grandmother, Juliette Smith, well known here, lives at the same residence. He has two uncles, Hugh Smith and Herbert Smith who also live here.

Reports that an airplane had seen the raft but that the boy was not on it, were discounted today by relatives here. An airplane is still sweeping low over the desert sea but has not yet located the boy or the raft, they said.

RAILWAYS SUE CITY, COUNTY FOR TAX PAID

Two suits involving a total of $135.24 termed the amount of special assessments paid under protest, were filed in superior court yesterday by the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe railway and the Southern Pacific railway against Orange county and the city of Santa Ana.

The Santa Fe is demanding recovery of $27.44 paid for the year 1931-32 and the Southern Pacific is seeking to recover $77.80.

The actions involve the paving of Fruit street authorized by the Santa Ana city trustees in a resolution of intention dated February 7, 1927. The railroad companies are alleging that prior to adoption of the resolution of intention the property involved had been declared and established as a public street. After passage of the resolution and start of the work, the complaint charges, the city vacated the property and assessed it, as railroad property, for the improvement work.

When payment of the assessment was made to Tax Collector John Lamb, according to the complaint, letters accompanied the checks notifying him that payment was made under protest and to avoid penalties accruing through delinquencies.

Walter Muckenthaler, 119 Buena Vista drive, Fullerton, has reported that about 100 boxes of oranges had been stolen from his orchard on Basque avenue west Spadra road. The report indicated that the theft had been committed Monday night or before. The thieves had apparently driven a truck into the orchard and loaded sacks with the oranges.

Farm Advisor To Speak On Russia At Beach Tonight

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 2.—The Huntington Beach post of the American Legion will hold an open meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at Memorial hall. Harold Wahlberg, farm advisor, will deliver his illustrated lecture on Soviet Russia. He spent two months in the country and traveled some 10,000 miles looking over the various phases of the situation.

The meeting will be held at the high school auditorium Thursday night and each Kiwanian urged to purchase two tickets to help wipe out a $200 deficit. Announcement was also made of a football game at the high school Saturday afternoon between last year's championship team and next year's team with proceeds to be split 50-50 between the high school student loan fund and the relief of unemployed.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP MADE READY FOR SEASON

Osceola, the Orange county Y. M. C. A. camp, was the scene of an enjoyable outing recently for a large company of Santa Ana people, who had three days in the mountains under the general leadership of Boys' Secretary D. H. Tibbals, of the Santa Ana Y.

The party was made up of members of the "Christian Home Builders' Sunday school class of the First Christian church, together with a number of others who joined the group.

Much time was devoted to cleaning up the grounds around the camp buildings, preparatory to the regular opening of the summer camp season on June 31, when Santa Ana's Y. M. C. A. boys will go in for the first camp period. The cooking for the week-end party was done by committees working in relays, and an interesting fact was that the cost of food supplies for the event amounted to 15 cents per meal per person. The water supply was put into commission for the season, and other service tasks were performed by the visitors. They found the flowers unusually fine, there being an abundance of snow flowers and evening primroses.

Turns Down $3000 Expense Account

SACRAMENTO, June 2.—(UP)—State Controller Ray L. Riley doesn't agree with California legislators when it comes to a matter of "reasonable" expense accounts.

Senators J. W. McKinley, Angeles, and T. C. Nelson, Eureka, and Assemblymen Harry Sewell, Whittier, and Edgar C. Levey, San Francisco, as members of a special joint legislative committee concerning taxation of national banks, recently put in expense accounts amounting to almost $3000.

Payment of the claims was refused on the grounds they were not accompanied by vouchers and were not "reasonable." In an opinion just handed down, Attorney General U. S. Webb agreed with the controller.

Secures Customer Through Police Aid

Report to police last night by L. V. Wilson, operator of the English Service station on West Seventeenth, of what he believed to be suspicious actions on the part of a motorist in the vicinity, resulted in an unexpected customer.

An officer who responded to Wilson's call to make an investigation, discovered that the motorist was out of gasoline and brought him into the station in the police car to enable him to secure gas for his stranded auto.

Miss Shippe introduced special guests, including a trio of past queens, who were presented with floral corsages. They were Mrs. James Eudaly (Lucille Bernham), Miss Harriet Morris and Miss Betty Smith.

Dancing and cards were enjoyed for the remainder of the evening and punch was served throughout the affair. S. A. Girl to Be Feted Upon Arrival in England

Special festivity awaits Miss Dorothy Diehl in England her friends learned today upon being advised that three cousins of the Santa Ana girl, a daughter and two granddaughters of the aunt, Mrs. James Westcott, have just been presented at court, and that Miss Diehl will arrive in time to share the social whirl following this ceremony.

Miss Diehl left today by train for the east, stopping at Denver, Colo., to join an aunt and cousin, Mrs. E. Preston and Miss Allison Preston of that city, with whom she will make the trip to England. The three will sail June 11 from New York on the S. S. Albatross, all having made their reservations together through Mrs. Julia Hyde of the travel bureau in the Commercial National bank of this city.

Mrs. C. B. Diehl, mother of the Santa Ana girl, left Sunday by train for Brownsville, Tex., to visit a second daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Beer (Mavis Diehl) with whom she will return at the close of the summer.

Moay Tea Compliments Mothers of Jaysee Club Members

Lavender and yellow was the color scheme used in decorating the charming home of Miss Mildred Spicer, 2548 North Park boulevard, Saturday when the Moay club members of Junior college honored their mothers and women members of the faculty with a bridge tea.

Mrs. Charles Spicer, Miss Mildred Spicer and Miss Edith Bailey, president of the club, formed a receiving line to welcome the guests, each of whom was presented a French corsage of yellow and lavender flowers. Tables for bridge were set on lawn and terrace, where hand-made tallies bearing tiny corsages of crepe paper in a lace frill, carried out the French bouquet idea.

When tallies were checked, first prize of a wisteria glass compote wrapped in tissue and tied with ribbons of matching tone, was awarded to Mrs. Paul Bailey. Mrs. Edith Thatcher received the second prize of a topaz etched bon bon dish, while Miss Genevieve Humiston received a pink glass sugar and cream set for third prize.

The group then adjourned indoors, where amid a setting of yellow and lavender summer flowers, tables were spread with dainty linens, and centered with French bouquets of the same yellow and lavender flowers. Apricot frozen dessert, lady fingers frosted in yellow and lavender, mints of the same pastel tints, and tea were served by a committee composed of the Misses Gertrude Jentes, Elizabeth Riniker, and Althea Lemke.

During the refreshment hour, Miss Elizabeth Skiles sang several songs, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Skiles. Those present included the guests, Mrs. Skiles, Mrs. Paul Bailey, Mrs. E. B. Riniker, Mrs. John Tesemman, Miss Mildred Spicer, Mrs. J. Parley Smith, Miss Zena Leck, Miss Mabel G. Whiting, Mrs. Edith Thatcher, Mrs. Charles Spicer, Mrs. W. D. Baker, Mrs. Huddie, Miss Dorothy Decker, Miss Genevieve Humiston, Mrs. Jack Jentes, Mrs. E. A. Wakeham, Mrs. O. H. Ege, and a house guest of Miss Bailey, Miss Marion Marlette of Berkeley.

Members present comprising the hostess group were the Misses Elizabeth Skiles, Mildred Spicer, Edith Bailey, Ernestine Wakeham, Jeanette Lutes, Gertrude Jentes, Katharine Chapman, Helen Wiesseman, Elizabeth Riniker, Eugenia Huddie, Althea Lemke and Miss Frances Ege, adviser.

Candle-lighted Church Is Lovely Setting For Wedding

Rarely has a myriad of church and altar candles shed their soft light over a lovelier bride nor a more impressive nuptial scene than last night when they illumined the First Presbyterian church for the wedding of Miss Betty Cleary to Howard Bear, an event which drew several hundred friends of the young couple to the church for the 8 o'clock rites.

Since Miss Cleary had chosen to express the soft hues of the early summer flowers in the costumes and appointments of her bridal attendants, the ideal setting for the maze of delicate colors was achieved by the use of massed ferns at the altar with one large central basket and two smaller end baskets of stately St. John lilies and white bouvardia. Lilies and tulle designated pew reserved for members of the family.

Preceding the ceremony was a short musical interval with Miss Ruth Armstrong as organist, and Robert Bradford as soloist whose numbers were "Until" and "All For You." Miss Armstrong played Lohengrin's Wedding March as the processional for the entry of the bride party, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the exit of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Bear and their attendants left the church.

Lovely Bride Enters The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the church, read the services, for which Miss Cleary was gowned in the traditional white satin, its quaint Victorian mode, including wide puffed sleeves, basque-effect bodice and extremely long flaring skirt, proving extremely becoming to her cameo-like beauty.

The long folds of her tulle veil fell from a little lace cap caught to her hair with orange blossoms. Her flowers were gardenias with bouvardia, tied with wide white tulle and narrow tulle ribbons in which were knotted sprays of lilies of the valley. For ornament, she wore Mr. Bear's gift of a pearl necklace, and in observance of tradition, carried the lace handkerchief which Mrs. Hal W. McCullough carried at her own wedding. She entered the church on the arm of her brother, John Cleary, by whom she was given in marriage.

Wedding Attendants Miss Margaret Gaeb, maid of honor, was charming in trailing lace gown of the most delicate shell pink, worn with tiny lace hat and lace mitts in the same tint, with slippers to harmonize. Her great cluster of flowers was made up of pale pink roses.

Bridesmaids were costumed in frocks of similar style fashioned of lace in the varying colors chosen, worn with small hats and the quaint lace mitts. Each carried flowers to match her gown, tied with floral tulle bows in the same color. All wore the pearls which had been Miss Cleary's gifts to her attendants. Miss Katherine Walbridge was gowned in seafoam green; Miss Ruth Potter of Anaheim, in peach; Miss Betty Wiswall in corn color, and Miss Mary Ann Bantz, niece of the bride, in larkspur blue.

Mr. Bear was assisted by his brother, Howard Bear, as best man, while close friends assisting as ushers and completing the wedding party were Messrs. Cecil Osterander of Beverly Hills; Howard Buffington of Burbank; Roy Lewis of Tustin, and Edward Gaeb of this city.

Reception Details This group of young people, together with Mr. Bear's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bear, formed the receiving line with the new Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bear at the reception to which relatives and a few close friends were bidden after the ceremony, and which was held in the D. A. Bear home, 1406 East First street.

Mrs. D. A. Bear had employed a bewildering variety of summer flowers in decorating for this event, with the colors of the bridesmaids' gowns repeated in the flowers and canopies for the table from which ice cream moulds, coffee, salted nuts and wedding cake were served. Monogrammed white boxes held small slices of the bride's cake for each guest.

Robert Bradford, here from Hollywood especially for the wedding, sang various appropriate songs during the reception, with Miss Anne Strong at the piano. "Because," "I Love You" and "Thou Art Like a Lovely Flower" were included.

Mr. and Mrs. Bear left last night by automobile for a northern honeymoon, planning to visit the Yosemite, points in Oregon and Washington, and perhaps in Canada before their return to the home awaiting them in this city.

Mr. Bear traveled in a smart semi-sports costume of blue and white knitted wool with dress accessories to correspond in color.

Mrs. Annim Entertains Out of Town Guests At Luncheon Mrs. Frank Annim (Gladys Burns) was hostess to an informal luncheon yesterday given in her home at 1908 North Broadway in honor of Mrs. Howard Hamlin (Laura Davis) formerly of Boston, and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson of Oakland. Mrs. Elmer Burns, who was a third luncheon guest, was a friend of Mrs. Annim.

Mrs. Anderson, an old friend of the two Santa Ana women, is visiting in this city for a few days as the houseguest of Mrs. Burns at 916 Spurgeon street, while Dr. and Mrs. Hamlin are making arrangements to go north within two weeks to make their future home in Seattle, Wash. The Hamlins have been enjoying a visit with Mrs. Annim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Davis, 120 West Eighteenth street.

One of June's First Brides Married in Church Chapel

Lighted with glowing white tapers, and decorated with many lovely flowers, the bride's chapel of the First Methodist church last night was the scene of the marriage of Miss Edith Catherine Bray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bray, of Santa Ana, and James E. Hayward Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hayward of Waycross, Georgia.

The ceremony was read at 9 o'clock by Dr. George A. Varmer, pastor of the church. Banded with ferns and much greenery, and brightened with baskets of pink and white gladioluses combined with breath of heaven, the altar of the chapel made a lovely setting for one of the first of the June weddings. Tall satin-tipped tapers glowed from stately candelabra.

James Nuckolls sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning" preceding the ceremony, with Miss Walton accompanying at the piano. For the entry of the bride party, Lohengrin's Wedding March was played.

Impressive Rites Miss Bray, who was given in marriage by her father, was a beautiful bride in her formal satin gown fashioned with modish little lace jacket. A wreath of orange blossoms gave the final bridal touch to her long tulle veil, arranged in cap-effect. Especially lovely was her shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Attending her as maid of honor was a sister, Miss Geraldine Bray, who wore a blue embroidered organza and carried regal lilies. She wore a matching blue and white hat.

Bridesmaids wore organza frocks in pastel tints, with smart green tulle hats and sashes. They carried French bouquets. Another sister of the bride, Miss Muriel Bray, wore orchid; Miss Joan Fairchild of Balboa, wore pink, and Miss Helen Van Fleet of Cucamonga, wore yellow organza.

Stanley Van Fleet of Cucamonga, an uncle of Miss Bray, attended. Mr. Hayward as best man. Others in the party were A. Burton Van Fleet of Cucamonga, an uncle of the bride, and Don Howland of Santa Ana.

Little Mary Jean Van Fleet, a cousin of Miss Bray, was a charming flower girl in a pink frock, worn with old-fashioned lace pantalettes. The slender wedding ring reposed on a white satin pillow.

Wedding Reception A reception followed the ceremony, and was held in the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. H. S. Pankey, 815 North Broadway. Assisting members of the bridal party in receiving were Mrs. Bray, gowned in green satin, with a floral corsage of sweet peas and Talisman roses; Mrs. Pankey, wearing blue lace with a corsage of delicate pink Cecil Brunners; and Mrs. F. C. Pope, aunt of the bride, wearing blue flat crepe with pink roses and white sweet-peas.

Large baskets of gladioluses in yellow and orchid, and bouquets of white carnations were used in decorating the home. The new Mr. and Mrs. Hayward and their attendants were seated at a long table appointed in white, with carnations as the flowers used. White candles lighted the scene. The bride wore a three-tiered wedding veil, which was a handsome confederation decked in true bridal manner.

Moulded loaves, cakes and coffee were served. A long table decked with many flowers was used for serving the 100 guests in attendance.

Honeymoon Plans Mr. and Mrs. Hayward left for their honeymoon trip to San Francisco and other northern points. The bride was prettily attired in a sports costume, worn with white camel hair coat and other costume details in brown and white.

They are expected to return to Santa Ana about June 17 for a farewell visit before leaving for Georgia, where they will visit with Mr. Hayward's parents. They will spend the next year traveling, as Mr. Hayward's duties with a magazine company will take him to various parts of the United States. Later, they expect to return to California to make their home.

Among those present for the ceremony were the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. F. B. Van Fleet of Cucamonga, and Mrs. John Boss of Ontario, who attended Mrs. Bray as maid of honor when she was married.

The 100 guests present were from Santa Monica, Del Mar, Anaheim, Fullerton, Ontario, Costa Mesa, Balboa, Cucamonga, Santa Ana and Los Angeles. As Mrs. J. H. Bray is a Native Daughter, as is her mother, Mrs. Voss, Native Daughters were special guests at the ceremony.

One-act Play Tourney Is Presented in Los Angeles

Interest of Santa Ana Community Players and their friends was directed the past week to the Los Angeles County Tournament of One Act Plays conducted very successfully by the Drama association of that county, at the Los Angeles Junior college, and concluding Saturday night with the presentation of awards.

Among members of the local association who saw the different tournament events was Frank Lansdown, under whose direction the annual Southern California tournaments launched by the Santa Ana association, have moved to such success. He was especially interested in the work of various groups which had taken part in the April tournament in this city, including Beverly Hills, repeating "The End of the Dance"; Claremont repeating "White Dresses"; Sierra Madre with "Job's Kids"; and the Touchstone Drama Shop, which gave "The Last Mile," taking second prize with its accompanying prizes of $25 and a silver cup.

J. Howard Miller of this group, (which had appeared successfully in Santa Ana, taking second place in the 1931 tournament) was given the prize for the best work among the men actors for his interpretation of "Richard Walters." First place among women actors was accorded Velma Greshman of the Beverly Hills group for her work as the dancer, "Madeleine Marsden," which had created so much favorable comment at the Santa Ana tournament.

First prize of silver cup and $50 went to the Little Theater of the Verdugo for the one-act, "The Lady in the Sack," by Conrad Seller. In this production, the work of Ralph Neff as "The Story Teller," was especially enjoyed by Santa Anans in the audience. Among those whose work received honorable mention was Alma E. Morgan of Sierra Madre, who had received the same honor in the Santa Ana tournament.

Young People Will Sail For Year's Study At Sorbonne

Plans of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Charlie Flint of Atascadero to sail Monday, June 6, for a year of study in France, will be of unusual interest in this city, where Mrs. Flint will be recalled by a host of friends as Miss Rose Marie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Smith, 1717 North Broadway.

The marriage of the young couple was an event of June, 1931, and during the intervening year Mr. Flint has been dean at the Moran School for Boys, Atascadero, where he has been a member of the faculty ever since graduating from Stanford university the previous year with a master's degree in history and sociology.

He had a year of study at the Sorbonne in Paris, and will return there for an additional year of advanced work. Mrs. Flint also will pursue a study course with special attention to French and other modern languages.

The young people will sail next Monday from Los Angeles harbor on the Panama-Pacific liner "Pennsylvania," and will stop in Cuba en route to New York City. After a short visit in the eastern metropolis, they will sail on the Hamburg-American liner, "Bremen," for Europe where they will spend the coming year. They expect to spend some time in travel in addition to their studies, with Holland, Belgium and Germany on their itinerary as well as France.

James Andersons Visit Former Santa Anans On Northern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, 725 South Garnsey street, just returned from a two week's trip north, enjoyed a visit en route home with Mr. Anderson's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Andrews (Isabelle Anderson) of Berkeley. Mrs. Anderson, a former Santa Ana, is planning a tentative trip south with Mr. Andrews in the fall, the Andersons reported.

Yosemite and Crater Lake were highlights in the Anderson's northern itinerary, the Santa Anans travelling over the Columbia highway to Portland, Ore., and down the Redwood highway to Oakland. While in Berkeley they also had an opportunity of visiting a second sister of Mr. Anderson, Miss Anne Anderson, formerly of this city, who is residing in Santa Rosa but who was in Berkeley for a brief stay.

MYSTIC DRIVES CAR WITH EYES 'SEALED'

Playing a spectacular blind man's bluff, Prince Rahji Mahindra, Indian mystic now appearing at Walker's State theater here, yesterday thrilled pedestrians and motorists alike by skillfully piloting an automobile through Santa Ana's heaviest traffic, around corners, and finally parking in front of the theater—blindfolded!

Prince Rahji is a graduate of the Indian College of Calcutta, British India. He has been trained by Hindu yogis since he was 12 in oriental magic. He can perform the most dangerous trick or stunt of Hindu magicians, called the "Hindu breath-control," which he performs at every performance at Walker's State.

This is the closing day of Prince Rahji's engagement. "Street Scene," featuring Sylvia Sidney, is the feature picture on the program.

Maraschino Cherries—How to Do 'Em

Cherries must be ripe somewhere. Someone has written me to publish again directions for putting up Maraschino Cherries. I am glad to do so.

Use a firm white cherry, preferably a Royal Anne. Pit the cherries and let them stand overnight in a very mild solution of alum. Make it no stronger than you can pleasantly taste. Turn the cherries into a colander in the morning and let them drain under a running tap. For the syrup make one that will spin a thread (just as you'd boil syrup for frosting. For 5 pounds of pitted cherries use 6 cups sugar and 2 1/2 cups water). Put the cherries into the boiling syrup and cook rapidly until the fruit gets soft. Take off the fire and add a teaspoonful of red fruit coloring.

Cover and let stand until next day. Set over a low fire and when the syrup reaches the boiling stage remove and let stand for another 24 hours. On the third boiling add more coloring if needed, strain out the cherries and put into sterile bottles. Then boil down the syrup until it is very thick, fill up the jars and when half cold add 2 tablespoonfuls of almond extract to each quart jar of cherries. Seal tightly and turn the jars end for end every day for a week.

Last year Royal Annes were so expensive I used Kentish cherries with grand results. One reader tells me she tried the ordinary pie cherries and had good results. Don't be worried if there is much juice. Bottle it and use it for iced drinks and pudding sauces. It is a good substitute for the expensive Grenadine syrup.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Graham Cracker Pie

40 Malted graham crackers
1/4 pound butter
2 cups apple sauce.
—Contributed by Mrs. R. E. L.

What a sum'bush dessert to make late Saturday for Sunday dinner! Well chilled overnight and decorated with whipped cream or ice cream it makes the most delectable figure-wrecker it has ever been my fortune to meet.

First, let's make the apple sauce: if green apples are available, use them, making a thick sauce, sweetened to taste. Other apples the same, both sauces strained.

For the crust paste have the graham crackers very crisp, roll them fine and mix well with the melted butter to make a flaky sort of paste. Line a buttered piepan with the dough, well patted down to hold it against the pan. Fill with apple sauce and cover with the rest of the cracker mixture. Just strew it over the sauce evenly and slip into a medium-hot (375 degrees) oven to bake brown.

Cut this pie into at least eight pieces because even those small slices have a calory value of 330, not counting the trimmings. And whipped cream counts as 100 calories per heaping tablespoonful. Seventy-five per cent of this calory count lies in the energy foods.

This graham cracker pie is so good I am including it in the leaflet this week: THE DINNER OF THE MONTH—JUNE. You may have a copy with all the menu and recipes free of charge all week if you will just mail me a stamped, self-addressed envelope to get it to you.

ANN MEREDITH.

LAUGH, DERN YOU, LAUGH!

Joe E. Brown, as he appears in his latest mirthquake, "The Tenderfoot," coming tomorrow to the Fox Broadway along with five vaudeville acts.

FOX WEST COAST TO PREVIEW NEW FILM

A preview of a new picture from one of the major studios will be a special added attraction at the Fox West Coast theater tomorrow night, when the Richard Dix air thriller, "The Lost Squadron," has its Santa Ana premiere. The big program was announced today by Larry Goux, manager of the Fox West Coast house. The film to be previewed is said to be a comedy.

"The Lost Squadron," regular picture of the program, depicts neck-breaking stunts of the film daredevil in a thrilling modern romance of the air and Hollywood. Dix is supported by such featured players as Mary Astor, Erich von Stroheim, Joel McCrea, Dorothy Jordan and Robert Armstrong.

The Fox West Coast's double bill—"The Strange Case of Clara Deane," featuring Wynne Gibson and Pat O'Brien, and "Scandal For Sale," with Charles Bickford and Rose Hobart—closes tonight.

Subdivider Must Pay Sign Painter

LAGUNA BEACH, June 2.—Lawrence H. Lasley, subdivider of Three Arches and a big tract at Encinitas, was given a 30-day suspended sentence by justice of the Peace C. C. Cravath Tuesday on a charge of violating the state labor laws. A condition of the sentence was that he pay to H. R. Love, a sign painter, $55.50 due the latter for services, within one week.

The case was prosecuted by Stanley M. Gue, a deputy in the department of domestic relations of the division of labor statistics and law enforcement at San Diego. Before the case had ended, Lasley told the court that if he had made a mistake he was willing to pay the money.

FIVE ACTS AND BROWN COMEDY NEXT AT B'DWY

Five acts of "big time" vaudeville, and the latest Joe E. Brown comedy, "The Tenderfoot," comprise the Fox Broadway theater's program for Friday and Saturday.

Lillian St. Leon and Company heads the stage fare. Miss St. Leon is considered one of the two finest circus riders. Her number calls for a regular horse-riding ring to be installed on the stage.

"The Tenderfoot" is hailed as Joe E. Brown's funniest film, affording him his greatest opportunity for the universally popular type of comedy which has made him famous. In the title role, Joe appears as a "tenderfoot" who comes to New York from his Texas ranch, looking for a safe investment which will enable him to lift the mortgage on his ranch. He falls in with a theatrical producer and the fireworks begin when Joe buys a flop show.

The large supporting cast has Ginger Rogers in the feminine lead, Lew Cody and Robert Greig in comedy roles and Vivian Oakland, Wilfred Lucas, Spencer Charters, Ralph Ince, Marion Byron and Mae Madison in prominent parts.

'YOUNG AMERICA' AT BROADWAY LAST DAY

"Young America," a film drama of boyhood for old as well as young, closes tonight at the Fox Broadway theater where it has been showing in conjunction with the personal appearances of Buffalo Bill Jr., well known motion picture cowboy.

Spencer Tracy, Doris Kenyon, Beryl Mercer, Ralph Bellamy and Sarah Padden have the "grown-up" leads in the picture, which deals with the drama of boyhood and with the work of the juvenile courts in getting our youngsters off to the right start.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The dog that had a tin can tied tight to its tail barked loud and tried to thank the kindly Tines for removing the tin can.

Then Scouty said, "Well, hound, I fear that you had best get out of here. Go right out through the barrel door." And off the big dog ran.

Ol' King Sardine Can shortly cried, "Come on, lads, walk right by my side and I will take you 'round this town. You'll all enjoy the trip."

"We have the strangest houses here, as you will see when you get near. 'Twill only take a little time and nothing will we skip."

The tines followed here and there and Duncy said, "Say, this is rare. The tin cans that come to this place have naught but fun in store."

"There is no work that they must do. Thus, ere they start, they all are through. If I could live a life like that I'd ask for nothing more."

"Their houses are of cardboard, see! They look as comfy as can be. 'Course they're not big enough for us, but for the cans they're fine."

"Now that we all have looked around, let's find a cool spot on the ground and take a little snooze. That's just a brilliant hunch of mine."

"You mean it is a lazy hunch," said Scouty. "Please stay with the bunch and don't be sneaking little naps. We want to see more sights."

"Of course there's nothing more right here, but other strange towns may be near. If we were judged by you, we'd all be lazy Tinymites."

Just then a voice said, "Hi, ho, boys! Excuse me if I make much noise, but I just heard somebody say you'd like to travel 'round."

"That's fine! I have a rocket here and it will take you far, or near. Just climb inside and you will shortly shoot right off the ground."

The White House on the famous 101 Ranch. . . . The home of the Miller brothers, where the open-handed hospitality of the west was dispensed to guests for decades.

LAST of the STAND 101 RANCH

George Miller, who lost his life in an auto accident shortly before the famous ranch got into financial difficulties.

When Col. Zack Miller defied his creditors with a shotgun, he was defending a western empire founded by his father in the days before Oklahoma was opened to the white man

WHEN Colonel Zack Miller, bluff Oklahoma plainsman of the old school, got up from a sick bed and fired a shotgun into the floor of his house while his 101 Ranch was going under the hammer at a receiver's sale recently, he was simply emphasizing the fact that even a fighting family can have one misfortune too many.

The Miller ranch is older than Oklahoma, and the Miller family has been prominent in the west since before Oklahoma land was opened for settlement. Through the last half century the Millers have fought against one bad break after another, winning out time and again over disasters that would have overwhelmed most men.

But Zack Miller's two brothers, Joe and George, are gone now. The 101 Ranch wild west show has folded up. The oil, cattle, hogs, wheat, fruit and leather produced by the tremendous Miller ranch have been fetching disastrously low prices for years.

So, when loans of around $170,000 on the ranch fell due this spring, a receiver's sale was the only way out.

There was nothing much left for Colonel Miller to do but express his general disgust with the whole proceedings by firing his shotgun, which he did—fired it into the floor just behind Neal Sullivan, attorney for the receiver, who had just come in to discuss the sale with him.

IN all the American west there never was a ranch quite like the 101, and there never was a family quite like the Miller family. And if the present financial difficulties prove too great to be overcome, and the ranch passes from the Oklahoma scene, an interesting and picturesque chapter in the history of the west will be closed.

There are 110,000 acres in the 101 Ranch. In the midst of them sits the massive, broad-beamed ranch house—the White House, as the Miller brothers always called it. For decades this house has been nationally famous for its hospitality. Writers, actors, oil men, cattle men, financiers—all have been its guests, entertained with the traditional cordiality of the west.

It was on the 101 Ranch that the rodeo was turned into a spectacle to amuse easterners. It was on the 101 that such famous movie cowboys as Tom Mix, Buck Jones, Art Acord and others learned the tricks of their trade. It was there that the wild west show was brought to its peak of perfection as an amusement enterprise.

And it was there, too, that tough old Zack Miller let loose with a shotgun to show the world how he felt about the trick that fate had played on him.

The Miller ranch was founded by the father of the Miller brothers, Colonel George W. Miller. It was in 1871 that he reached the Kansas-Oklahoma border, heading west in a covered wagon with his wife and his two-year-old son Joe, bound for California.

HALTING for the winter, in company with a number of other emigrants, Colonel Miller decided that Oklahoma might be better than California. His neighbors had a number of pigs, and he began acquiring them by barter, trading bits of equipment that were to have gone to California with him. When he had got all the pigs he could get, he butchered them and turned the meat into ham and bacon.

When spring came he set out for Texas. Reaching Fort Worth, he traded his ham and bacon for Texas longhorns. Then, having accumulated a herd, he headed north again.

Colonel Joe Miller, who bought two caravans of apple trees at a bargain . . . and who was first of the three brothers to die.

In those days Texas cattle were driven north over the famous Chisholm trail, pasturing as they went on the rich grass of the open plains, and getting to market at the railhead in Kansas or Missouri. Colonel Miller, having got back to where he started from, proceeded to establish a ranch there. He leased his land from the Indians, settling in the famous Cherokee strip long before ordinary white settlers were allowed to live there.

His first ranch was near the present site of Miami, Okla. But he moved about several times, and in 1879 he established his 101 Ranch near where Ponca City is now.

Here the other two Miller brothers, George and Zack, were born. Their boyhood home was a sod house, and cowboys were about the only human beings they saw for months at a time. They fairly grew up in the saddle; and before they had become of age they were playing prominent parts, with Joe and their father, in the development of the ranch.

THE ranch went on expanding until 1893.

Then came the first of the long chain of misfortunes. There was a panic that year, and a Kansas City firm that had acted as Colonel Miller's agent in all his cattle dealings, failed.

He had had a $300,000 credit on the company's books; the failure wiped that out, and brought the revelation that certain bills that the firm should have paid for him had not been paid.

Creditors descended on him. They took his cattle to satisfy their claims. When they got through he had only a handful of cows and horses left. In order to get through the winter he had to sell most of this remainder to the Indians.

The next year, in order to recoup, the Millers decided to go in for agriculture. Heretofore they had never planted anything, depending solely on stock for their livelihood. That year they planted 5000 acres of wheat.

The harvest was bountiful—more than 70,000 bushels. Wheat was selling at $1.20 a bushel that year. The Millers came back!

That was the beginning of their diversification schemes. The Millers continued to raise huge herds of cattle; but they adopted many other lines as well. They had a huge acreage of wheat each year; they established vast orchards, great herds of swine, a tannery where they could make their own leather.

It was in connection with this tannery that another typical example of overcoming misfortune was furnished.

The first tannery building was destroyed by a cyclone. Another was built, at a cost of $60,000, and destroyed by fire shortly after it was finished. The next day a third one was begun. Then, when it was finally completed and put into operation, the price of tanned hides abruptly dropped from 50 cents a pound to three cents a pound—far below the cost of production.

So the Millers sent Zack down to Austin, Texas, where a wholesale harness house had gone bankrupt. He bought the equipment and brought it to the ranch, hired the defunct firm's harness makers, and presently the Millers had their own harness-making establishment on their own ranch.

The orchards came into existence more or less by accident. Joseph Miller made a business trip to Winfield, Kansas, one day, and noticed two caravans of young apple trees on a railroad siding. He learned that the buyer for whom they were intended had gone broke, and that the trees could be had for payment of little more than the freight charges.

He promptly bought them and took them back to his ranch, where he put 50 men to work setting them out. In the years that followed, apples worth $170,000 were picked from those trees.

THE rodeo idea was really born way back in 1892, when Colonel Miller happened to visit this same Kansas town of Winfield during Fair week. He had his cowboys put on a series of their tricks, "just to help out," and discovered that the tricks were highly popular with the spectators.

From that there was evolved, in turn, the wild west show. In 1906 the brothers put their famous show on the road. It ran steadily until the war, and resumed operations after the Armistice. All in all, it netted the Millers a profit of more than a million dollars.

Then the vast Oklahoma oil fields began to be opened—and it was discovered that among the Millers' 110,000 acres there was much good oil land. Wells were sunk and the Millers got into production.

At one time they had an output of 10,000 barrels a day, owned their own refinery and sold gasoline to tourists from their own filling station!

A typical example of the way the Millers did things was furnished in 1927. The state of Florida had put into effect a series of strict new regulations to govern its cattle-growing industry, and whole herds were thrown on the market at ridiculously low prices. The Millers heard of it, and Zack and George went down to Florida to do something about it.

UP and down the state they went, buying cattle. Presently they had accumulated 35,000 head. Then, to the amazement of the Floridians, they moved them back to Oklahoma in 800 cars, comprising 50 long trains. The whole operation, of course, yielded a nice profit to the Millers.

Then misfortune began to strike at the family again.

Joe Miller, eldest of the three brothers, lost his life in 1927 in an unusual automobile accident. He had been working on the motor of his car, and apparently was overcome by carbon monoxide gas poisoning. Two years later death claimed George Miller, when his car overturned and crushed him.

Meanwhile financial troubles had begun. The price of farm products began to go down. Then the price of oil dropped. Then the 101 Ranch show went on the rocks.

It struggled along for several years in a vain effort to get back on a paying basis, but it was unable to do so. Finally, less than a year ago, the show went broke in Washington, and its cowboys and cowgirls were stranded there until Colonel Zack spent $11,000 of his own money to bring them back to Oklahoma.

Colonel Zack Miller got up from a sick bed and fired his shotgun into the floor just behind Neal Sullivan, attorney for the receiver of his ranch.

Colonel Zack Miller, as he looked when garbed in his western finery.

CURIOUS RULES FORCE HOUSE IN ROUNDABOUT CHANNELS TO SPEAK ITS MIND ON SENATE

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Angry utterances, perhaps induced by election worries, and frayed nerves, are frequent in Congress during these days of strife and strain.

But members sometimes find themselves hampered to the point of exasperation. Formal rules are invoked to prevent them from calling each other nasty names and despite their immunity from the legal consequences of anything they say on the floor, the dictates of expediency are even forcing them to moderate the language they use toward ordinary citizens.

Unhappy Huey
Witness the unhappy plight of Senator Huey Long, the Louisiana "kingfish," who was told that he couldn't say Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas, his own party's floor leader, was influenced in his votes by his corporation law clients.

They pulled paragraph two of Rule XIX on Huey, reading as follows: "No senator in debate shall, directly or indirectly, by any form of words impute to another senator, or to other senators any conduct or motive unworthy or unbecoming a senator."
That's a funny rule in more ways than one, but Huey had to sit down until someone—it was John Blaine of Wisconsin—made a special motion allowing him to resume.

A "Harsh" Word
Meanwhile, Congressman Fiorello H. LaGuardia, the New York incumbent, was being asked to expunge from a committee record the word "contemptible" which he had applied to President E. L. Cord of the Century Air Lines in connection with a pilots' strike following pay cuts.

Chairman Sam Rayburn of the House Interstate Commerce Committee begged LaGuardia to strike out the "harsh word" because, he said, when another gets in a similar criticism previously "the committee had to hear him for two days." That seems to be the citizen's flat method of retaliation at attacks from congress.

But what really creates complicated commission is a razzberry tossed by a representative at a senator, or vice versa. "One calls attention to the recent exchange of puns between the peppery little Senator Carter Glass of Virginia and the ex-prizefighting congressman, Fred Britten of Illinois."

The Glass Charges
The house spattered in anger when Glass charged that some Chicago bankers had hired one of its members to oppose branch banking provisions of the McFadden bill some years ago.
But it spent half an hour arguing whether Britten could be permitted to quote the Glass charges.

A burglar entered a garage in the rear of the home of Mrs. C. Lambler, 419 Vance street, some time between 8 and 10 o'clock last night and escaped with a brown leather Morocco suitcase valued at $18, according to a report at the police station.
The door was closed but not locked. Police believe it may have been the work of boys.

Former S. A. Man Purchases Hotel

Word was received here yesterday that Floyd B. Smith, former Santa Ana rancher, has purchased the Hillcrest hotel in Inglewood and will take charge of it immediately as active manager.

According to E. R. Marshall, owner of the building, the amount involved in the sale was approximately $100,000. Marshall purchased the property about one year ago.

ASKS OUSTER OF MAYOR WALKER

Samuel Seabury is asking for an ouster of Mayor Walker on the ground of violation of the city charter. Mr. Walker holds bonds in a company which received a contract on traffic lights. This is a small item compared with the large amounts of money which the Mayor received from various individuals interested in doing business with the city.

It would appear that the Mayor received telephone messages from almost strangers, and many who knew him, giving him an opportunity to "get in on a good thing," without cost to the Mayor. The Mayor makes declaration that this had nothing to do with any interest that these men or their companies had with the city.

These amounts ran into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. More than this, Dr. William Walker, the Mayor's brother, has admitted receiving large amounts from other physicians who were paid by the city to treat city employees. He split with them, fifty-fifty. The account of the Mayor's brother and his wife, which they jointly had with these other four physicians, showed a total deposit in the last four years of nearly one-half a million dollars. Incidentally, these physicians "padded" the city bills, and naturally what was to hinder it?

There is the constant struggle between those who take advantage of their official position to take from the public treasury, either for themselves or for their friends, more than justice and equity entitles them to do. It is strange that office-holders cannot see, and politicians who protect them cannot understand, in cases where money is taken in larger amounts from the treasury for the doing of any work, or the paying of any contract, than the same ones could get it done for themselves, and when such sums are paid in larger amounts, because of political friendship and connections, and thereby the taxpayer is defrauded of his money, that regardless of the law, it is defrauding the taxpayer of his money, betraying a trust and should be in the category of stealing.

Mayor Walker is surrounded constantly by the army of office holders, friendly contractors and general beneficiaries of this kind of a system. It is a universal rule that you always find that kind of people defending the character of work that is done by Tammany Hall.

In lesser degree you do frequently find this condition existing throughout the country. It is only possible where the facts are concealed and the political operations run by a so-called political "machine."

FROM A RUSSIAN VISITOR IN 1893

The former Grand Duke Alexander of Russia, who lectured here in Santa Ana last year, in his very popular book of memoirs: "Once A Grand Duke," tells of his first visit to the United States in 1893. He was tremendously impressed. He was inspired by what he saw in this country. "It was hard to believe that only twenty-nine years earlier this very land had to go through the terrors and privations of a fratricidal war. In vain did I search for the traces of recent calamities along the streets that spelled joy, power and wealth."

He compared the country with his own Russia. Because of the example of America he saw great possibilities for Russia. Russia had greater natural resources, its soil if properly cultivated should be able to feed the whole world. The young Grand Duke was excited by his vision of the future of Russia as in his imagination he saw it reflected in the United States. He was fired with ambition as he looked at our glorious country and thought of his own. To him it was all so wonderful; so encouraging. It appeared to be a foretaste of the millennium. He expressed his feeling at a dinner party at the home of Mr. Astor. His expressions were greeted with an astounding reaction. Everyone assured him that the country was on the brink of a precipice. Had not the Grand Duke seen the bad news in the paper? They called for a paper, and he read the news.

That was in 1893. The Grand Duke says in his book that the paper is still in his possession, and he tells something of what was in it: "Glancing at the financial page we learn that Wall Street is wrapped in gloom. 'New York Central at 14 1/2 reaches a new low for the year. More bankruptcies expected within the next 24 hours. Money on call is very scarce at 12 to 15 per cent.'

In addition there was a sensational trial with people of all classes crowding the courtroom. The fashion editor does not disguise his misgivings over the extravagance of a 'modern girl'.

Things do change somewhat but human nature changes very slowly. It will help us to keep an even keel if we "think millennially." If we can view conditions today as recurrences of symptoms of conditions which have been existent in the world previously, we aren't quite so alarmed by their manifestations, as though we felt that they were some new and devastating phenomena. We can get comfort out of that way of thinking if we don't think too much. If one does think a bit more, one is inclined to feel discouraged that society has not discovered a cure and cured itself of these cycles of depression long before this.

RELIEVES UNCERTAINTY

The revenue bill, as it goes to conference, probably meets no one individual's approval. The only man we can imagine who would approve of it, would be one without property or income, and who never expected to make any purchases.

While it satisfies no one, it is probable that on its enactment, with the budget being balanced, we can hope for something like stabilization, at any rate, for the uncertainties due to the doubt of the character of tax bill which will be enacted, will be eliminated.

Some people will begin to realize at once that they have a government, as it will touch at so many points. With some they will immediately note it in the increase in first-class postage. That has continued for so long at the regular rate of 2 cents per ounce that this increase of 50 per cent, while not much, will be most certainly noted.

A LOGICAL TAX

Seldom is there as clear a piece of logic as that behind the one hundred per cent tax on incomes earned through violations of State or Federal laws, which was voted by the Senate Tuesday. "The proposal would change the position of the Government from being a partner in crime to that of confiscating every cent of the profits if they can be reached," said Senator Otis F. Glenn, who sponsored the bill in the Senate.

Since the Government has evidenced greater determination to get at tax evasions than violation of certain other laws, it may be the means of proving that the Eighteenth amendment could be enforced if there were a will to enforce it. If there were no more profit in peddling narcotics, gambling, and bootlegging, pliers of those trades would look for something else to do.

The "Ghastly Dew"

It was only a mimic "grappling of the airy navies" in the "central blue" and only a mimic city on the banks of the Tiber below—dummy factories and dwellings, dummy trains and trucks on land and boats in the river. But it was the real "ghastly dew" that rained upon this filmy model and illustrated the fate of a real industrial city with men, women and children in it when unable to ward off an air attack. Tennyson's poetic prophecy of the aerial conflict and of "the standards of the peoples plunging through the thunder storm" gives no such suggestion of the ghastliness of the reality as does the plain prose dispatch from Rome in yesterday's Times describing the mimic warfare:

First one hundred fighting planes rushed in and drove off or downed the defending forces. Airplanes plunged earthward seemingly wrapped in fire. The fifty bombing planes followed then and poured their deadly burden on the city, which vanished in a few minutes of deafening bombing.

No brave Horatius at the bridge could save the Eternal City from the Lars Porosnas of the skies. It all seems a travesty on the disarmament conference where the "common sense of most" should be finding a way to hold the "fretful realm" of earth in law without such enigma of awe.

A Peck in Time

To say that woodpeckers are entering the field of railway engineering would be putting it rather broadly. Nevertheless, they have their possible value in view of the destructive work of wood insects recently noted on overhead line poles which are supposed to be protected from all forms of organisms, including woodpeckers. Determined Baumhackers recently were found to be inspecting the interior possibilities even of cross-tied poles.

Engineers now are beginning to wonder why the persistence of these birds cannot be put to more practical use. If they must peck, they say, then let them peck in a way that will benefit the railway company.

Perhaps they would like to entice one of these pecking brigades into the store yards to sample new poles, and where they could peck to their hearts' content. In this way, insect-infested poles might be detected and discarded before being treated with creosote. Thus the company might save considerable expense, and at the same time lend a helping hand to any unemployment situation which might exist in the realm of woodpeckers.

Otherwise, a few tenacious peckers, working even on a five-day week basis, might in time so peck at the railway's telegraph poles as to give the company not a little cause for consideration.

He's a Broad Gauged Candidate

It is not too late the national conventions should be called off and the November election reduced to the formality of legalizing the people's choice of Jesse Oliver Hibler of St. Louis as President. Jesse is to be the next President. He says so himself and he ought to know.

The Hibler platform and claims are broad enough to suit any need. The candidate sets forth that his paternal grandfather was a Union soldier, while on the other side his forebears came from Virginia and Tennessee. So, he says, "I can fit in as either a Republican or a Democrat or both."

Candidate Hibler believes in preparedness and has his inaugural address all ready and on the desks of editors throughout the country. His appeal for votes covers everything from the Peloponnesian war to a plan to dispose of Europe's surplus population. Jesse tackles the world's problems in a big way and is deserving of a big hand at least. If his election cannot be brought about by acclamation he might serve as a dark horse in the Chicago convention, which, from all present appearances, will be in need of all the dusky steeds that can be rounded up.

More Truth Than Poetry

IN THE MIDST OF ALARMS

Astronomers are now employed
On every cloudless night
In searching for an asteroid
Which hovers out of sight.
While others through great lenses peer
When falls the close of day
To spy a comet's wild career
Ten billion miles away.

But should these devils of the sky
The savants chance to find,
Do you suppose that you and I
Would have more peace of mind?
Would we be more content to know
That, in its wild career,
Some unknown star may shortly blow
To bits our local sphere?

I shudder every time I think
As nowadays I must.
That our old earth is on the brink
Of crumbling into dust.
I wish these fellows would forget
The vast and far unknown
Beyond the atmosphere, and let
What's well enough alone.

How could it profit you or me
To live in shuddery fear
Because some wandering world is due
To smash our world next year?
On starlit evenings, after this,
I'm going to shut my eyes.
Because, "where ignorance is bliss,
'Tis folly to be wise."

THERE'S ALWAYS AN "IF"

ATHEISM IN UNIVERSITIES

Periodically certain groups attack our universities on the grounds that they teach atheism.

I do not know a university in America that teaches, in the sense of propagandizing, atheism.

The University of which I am the head does not teach atheism.

In one course that seeks to list and to interpret the varied conceptions of man and nature that have arisen over the centuries the non-theistic conception is stated along with the rest.

I am not an atheist!

I entered the morning hours of my active career with the settled intention of entering the ministry. Authentic religion has been a sustaining and sweetening factor in my thought and life. For a time I saw active service in the pulpits of Missouri villages. As I emerged from college I left the pulpit, but I have had no sense of having left the ministry.

And I am a father!

I know quite well that my son will sooner or later hear the claims of atheism pressed. For myself, I should prefer that he hear them carefully and clearly analyzed alongside the other and, to me, more valid points of view in the class room of a sincere and morally sound teacher than that he should hear them sneeringly and insinuatingly stated in after-college days by some morally irresponsible cynic.

If any teacher of a university over which I presided undertook actively to propagandize for atheism I should as quickly ask his resignation as I should ask the resignation of a teacher who converted his class room into a recruiting station for Calvinism or Christian Science.

But a careful and responsible analysis of the contentions of atheism no more means that a university is teaching atheism than that the explanation of Catholic doctrines by a professor of medieval history means that the university in which he teaches is soliciting converts for the Roman Catholic church.

As we move into more and more financial stringency respecting schools, we shall see the schools of America bombarded on all sorts of counts, this among them, and so I make this statement in the interest of protecting the freedom and fairness of our school system.

PICKING UP

You could hear Junior howling when you were half way up the block. "What in thunder is the matter with the kid?" muttered father, striding faster. "Sounds as though he were being murdered."

"Now then, here's your father. I told you he would be coming soon and find you being a bad boy."

"What's the trouble, Junior?" Junior sat on the floor of the sitting room entirely surrounded by toys. He was sobbing in a weary sort of way now, the first fine frenzy over.

"He got out everything in his game chest. I warned him not to take out so many because he had to put them back. Now he doesn't want to put them back."

"There is a lot of them," said father thoughtfully.

"Well, he must learn that nobody is going to pick up after him. He's got to pick up his own things. I have too much to do now. If he doesn't pick up his things he'll grow into the kind of person that must be followed up constantly by a picker-up. Junior must be his own picker-up."

"Well, come on, Junior. I'll lend you a hand. We'll get them into the box in no time. Then father'll give you a ride on his shoulder."

Father put the toys in the box. Junior got in a couple but his interest and strength failed and he collapsed into deeper floods of tears.

Little children ought to put their things away. For several good reasons—personal neatness, care of property, consideration for others, and the like. But the task must be kept within their powers. If there is a wise choice of toys, directed choice if necessary, only a few toys will be out of place. When play time is NEARLY over, it is time to put things away. Do not wait until the child is too tired to lift his hand before telling him to pick up his things. Have him start before the point of exhaustion is reached.

Toward evening a child is weary. It is harder for him to do things then than it was in the morning or the afternoon hours. There are two periods of the day that we must consider when directing the children to do things. The one immediately following rising and the one that precedes the evening meal. Step gently those two periods. In the morning the child usually needs a few minutes of time for warming up. In the evening period he needs help to carry him over his fatigue.

If the toys are scattered over the floor, help him a little. Work with him cheering him on with your presence and your helpful word. He will learn what you want to teach him, putting away his things when he has finished with them, and he will not have unpleasant associations tied up to neatness, order, care and promptness.

Children work harder than laborers sometimes, and we, not watching, add the last straw. (Copyright, 1932, The Bell Syn. Inc.) GERMANS HALTED

On June 2, 1918, French troops halted the great German offensive in the Marne sector, after a day of terrific fighting.

German attacks on Rheims continued, but were again beaten off. Losses to the attacking forces during the day's fighting were estimated at more than 25,000.

In a surprise counter attack, a fresh French division recaptured several villages taken by the Germans the day before.

American troops on the front were engaged in severe fighting. They held their ground, inflicting heavy losses.

Submarines operating off the Atlantic seaboard of the United States sank several small vessels. The German official bulletin said that five submarines were in American waters.
